Attempt to Enter Store
Frank Perry, aged 17 years, was charged with attempting to break and enter and steal from the store of McGillicuddy Brothers in Gorham street.

Patrolman Douglas Giron, while patrolling his beat on January 4th, saw Perry leaving an alleyway near the McGillicuddy store and upon calling to Perry, the latter took to his heels and ran. The officer knew Perry and upon seeing him at a later date questioned him as to what he had been doing in the alley. Perry gave some kind of an excuse, and when the officer told him that a window in the rear of the store had been broken he said that his brother and a boy named Perry were in the alley with him but he did not know what they had been doing.

Joseph McGillicuddy, one of the members of the firm, testified that when he left the store on the night of the 4th everything was all right, but when he opened the store in the morning the rear window was broken.

Probable cause was found and Per-

WANTS HER LETTER PUBLISHED

For Benefit of Women who Suffer from Female Ills

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was a great sufferer from female troubles which caused a weakness and broken down condition of the system. I read so much of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other suffering women I felt sure it would help me, and I must say it did help me wonderfully. My pains all left me, I grew stronger, and within three months I was a perfectly well woman."

"I want this letter made public to show the benefit women may derive from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. JOHN G. MORAN, 2115 Second St., North, Minneapolis, Minn.

Thousands of unsolicited and genuine testimonials like the above prove the efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made exclusively from roots and herbs.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

We never publish a testimonial letter without the special permission of the writer, and then only when we are sure it is genuine. Surely such valuable testimony, therefore, should create confidence in the minds of suffering women.

BOARD OF POLICE

Issues Order to Regulate Sunday Hotel Business

None But Bona Fide Guests Can be Served With Liquor on Sundays and Holidays — Business Must be Done in Regular Dining Rooms to Satisfy Board

After much serious consideration and numerous complaints, the board of police has finally decided to take the Sunday hotel business out of the region of doubt, and insist that no liquor will be sold to anybody except to those who meet all the requirements of bona fide guests. The board has ordered also that these guests shall be served in the regular dining rooms of the hotels and not in the rooms specially provided for the Sunday business. The order of the board practically forbids the serving of food and drink to callers at hotels on Sundays and holidays except where any reasonable person can be satisfied that the purpose of the customer is to procure food and not liquor.

For some time past the hotels have been under fire by the Law and Order league and the police department, and many have been called into court for what appeared to be technical violations of the law. Many such cases are pending at the present time, but it seems that these prosecutions have not materially changed the system of doing business in the hotels on Sundays and holidays.

The board has wisely decided upon radical measures to prevent even the semblance of any such violation of the law and in that its action will doubt-

Office of the Board of Police,

Lowell, Mass., Jan. 14, 1909

To the Inhabitants of Lowell:

In view of the continuous unsatisfactory conditions with regard to the serving of liquor in your hotels on Sundays and holidays, the board of police of the city of Lowell, after due consideration, serve notice that on and after Sunday, Jan. 17, 1909, all persons resorting to the hotels for refreshment shall be required to observe the following requests:

First—All persons resorting to a hotel as guests on Sundays and holidays shall be served in no other room except the regular dining room, in the ordinary way.

Second—The serving of food and drink shall be eliminated except where any reasonable person would be satisfied that the purpose of the customer is to procure food and not liquor.

By order of the Board of Police,

JOHN J. FLAHERTY, JR., Clerk.

This order will affect some hotels, will, overcome this and prevent the sale of liquor on Sundays and holidays to anybody who is not a bona fide guest resorting to the hotel for food rather than drink. The order may be more restrictive than the statute and it is not law of course, but the board of police can refuse to grant a license to any hotel that does not carry out the provisions of the order to the letter. That consideration will be sufficient to cause any hotel keeper who wishes to remain in the business to obey the order of the board.

While in session, the board granted transfers to W. S. Grady & Co., 140 Worthen street, from five to seven rooms, at the same location, and to Jeremiah P. Murphy & Co., from 61-71 Salem and 45 Decatur streets to 61-63 Salem street, three rooms on first floor and cellar. These men are holders of first and fourth-class licenses as common victuallers and retail dealers.

WRITS ARE SERVED

By Sheriff Eveleth on 23 Liquor Saloons

Deputy Sheriff Eveleth was about to serve writs on the personal property of the licensees and incidentally putting in keepers until a bond is furnished in the 23 cases brought by W. T. S. Bartlett as guardian of a minor named Coughlin, residing in Dracut, who, it is alleged, was sold intoxicating liquor in the 23 saloons named in the writs.

A report had it that some 50 dealers were to be sued, but such is not the case as there are only 23, though the number of violations may exceed 50. The law provides for a civil action rather than a criminal in cases of selling liquor to a minor and the parent or guardian of such minor may receive a verdict of $100 for each violation. Deputy Sheriff Eveleth declined to give out the names of the dealers upon whom service had been made, stating that if they desired to they could.

DROP UNION LABEL

United Hat Manufacturers Issued Order Today

About 25,000 Hands Affected — Big Strike at Orange, N. J. — Another Strike in Brooklyn

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Twenty-five hat factories, employing from 20,000 to 25,000 hands, will be affected by a decision of the United Hat Manufacturers promulgated today to discontinue the use of the union label in all the factories represented by the association. The issuance of the order was followed by strikes in the hat factories of Orange, N. J., where 4000 men went out, and in Brooklyn, where 300 men employed by the Samuel Mundheim Co. went on strike. Samuel Mundheim is president of the Hat Manufacturers association. President Mundheim said today that the vote to discontinue the use of the label was unanimous and that every member of the association was present at the meeting or was represented by a proxy.

He said the reason for this action was that the union of employees had failed to keep a working agreement made with the Geyer Hat Co. of Philadelphia. Under this agreement he said that the men were to continue work until a settlement of pending questions was reached, but the men quit work in that factory three weeks ago and have since refused to return, although the manufacturers have been trying to induce them to do so.

The plant is practically idle. The Crofut & Knapp Co. employs 700 men, women and boys, but is the only plant in the Newark which is a member of the Hat Manufacturers association, which held a meeting in New York yesterday and decided to discontinue the use of the union label. A half dozen smaller factories in the town are not affected by the decision of the manufacturers association and are continuing business as usual.

The Crofut & Knapp concern is the largest in this section of the state.

LABOR LEADER

Attacked at Meeting in New York

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Daniel J. Tobin of Cambridge, Mass., international president of the Teamsters' union, is at his home in that city suffering from the effects of an assault upon him on Sunday night, at the meeting of New York Carriage and Club Drivers' union, No. 708, at that union's meeting place in 18th street, this city.

Sunday night at the meeting of Union No. 708 he urged an explanation in the interests of harmony with the large union of similar nature, that is carrying after a succession in the international body.

It is said he was very eloquent in his statements as to who and what he thought influenced the efforts to prevent the unions coming together.

President Tobin then started to leave the hall. "Look out," someone cried in warning, as he was about half-way down the hall. He instinctively raised his right arm. The weight of his hand bag did not permit of his getting his hand up quick enough to entirely save himself, although his arm broke the force of the blow aimed at him with a piece of gas pipe or iron bar wielded by one of the specially paraded members.

But the interference of the man probably saved his life, for the force of the blow was partly spent, and instead of the weapon striking him on the head it struck him glancingly in the face, breaking his spectacles and also badly fracturing his nose. The force also fell him to the floor. It is said that his assailant kicked him, injuring his ribs. Friends of Mr. Tobin interfered. President Tobin was carried to a hospital, where his wounds were dressed, and as soon as he was able to travel he started for home.

STAR THEATRE

The talking picture, "The Railroad Detective," is a realistic, melodramatic feature at the Star theatre for tonight and Saturday. The theft of $10,000 in gold, the race between the locomotives, and the final stand of the robbers make the picture most sensational. A complete change of pictures went into effect this afternoon. Among the pictures presented was "Sheridan's Ride," which one should not fail to see. New songs, "Shine on, Harvest Moon," and "When I Marry You," were sung.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

In seeing "The Wolf" you will escape in imagination wholly from your surroundings, you will find yourself in the vast woodlands of northern Canada, where the breezes are fragrant of pine. It is autumn and the scene that is laid before your eyes is the clearing in front of the house of old McTavish. It is a lovely home. There only lives with him his daughter, golden-haired Hilda.

His house becomes the rendezvous for a party of American engineers, led by MacDonald, the genius of the wilderness.

MR. SEVERIN DEDEYN

derness, the man whose acute, broad mind makes possible the building of railroads over steep mountains and through valleys. In his profession a giant, in his moral nature a satyr, is MacDonald.

And ever as he is a guest at the home of McTavish, there are two men at his elbow who have for three years been hating him—men who have a single idea as to what they will do when they meet him. They are resolved to kill him. For MacDonald had in years back, met Annette, a pretty little half-breed Ojibway girl—a good little girl, a communicant of the church, more French than Indian, a child who had all the simplicity of her Indian mother, while she had the moral teachings of the good Christian fathers of the remote parish.

MacDonald, conscienceless, had courted her, won her confidence, betrayed her and then left her to bear her shame.

Her half-brother, Jules Beaubine, a splendid young French-Canadian, only learned of Annette's existence when her father was dead. The young man is left heir to a big fortune and immediately starts in search of his half-sister with the idea of educating her and surrounding her life with luxuries. He traces her only to discover the frightful death which she suffered because of MacDonald's treachery.

He meets Batiste Le Grand, the girl's clean hearted lover, who was to have married her, but it was while Le Grand was away in the north working for the Hudson Bay company that MacDonald appeared, and with his suavities and worldliness misled the simple girl into believing that his love was honest and that he meant to marry her.

Jules Beaubine and Batiste Le Grand have been hunting this man for three years. Jules, by artful talk in which he causes MacDonald to believe that he, also is a libertine, has got from MacDonald's own lips the pitiful story of Annette.

Jules is in love with Hilda and it is plain that MacDonald is seeking to induce this girl-woman as his bride. Annette. He has filled her head with fascinating stories of the beauty of life in the great cities—the opera, theatres, handsome gowns, and glittering jewels.

With a notable company of players headed by Severin DeDeyn, and Mabel Estelle, "The Wolf" opens a two days engagement here at the Opera House tonight.

"QUINCY ADAMS SAWYER"

The big scenic production of "Quincy Adams Sawyer" in play form will be seen here at the Opera House all next week with matinees daily, commencing Wednesday. This engagement will attract more than ordinary interest because the famous novel of the same name, from which the play is taken, became recognized at once when it came out over five years ago as "the best New England story ever written," and has continued to be known ever since as one of the best selling books in the country. Like father, like son, they say. And so like book, like dramatization, you can say in some cases, critics are now saying of "Quincy Adams Sawyer" in play form that it is "The best New England play ever written."

HATHAWAY THEATRE

A squad of sixteen young men appearing in the military spectacle, "Our Boys in Blue," headlined at Hathaway's this week, with a degree of perfection almost unbelievable. Members of military organizations will marvel at the polish given to the many movements executed by them.

DeCarleton, Bonhill & Packan open the good hall with a comedy musical sketch named "At the Jumping Off Place." The place shown is where all theatrical troupes go to pieces. The particular predicament given concerns the love affairs of a stranded French tenor and the prima donna of the same company. There is much fun in it. Ed. Gray tells his own stories infinitely better than any other. Hughes are all good in their black and white. "Missor-etta's Visit to the City," Hugh J. Emmett is a novel ventriloquist, and the Gleasons and Fred Hamilton supply one of the prettiest dancing and piano acts seen here in a long time. Gilroy & Church turn over for analysis a lot of speedy talk. The Hathaway holds new films.

Performances will be given every afternoon and evening during the remainder of the week, with special seats at all matinees for women.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

Five of the most entertaining pictures of the season form a considerable part of the Academy program for the coming week. The titles of the pictures are as follows: "The Mysterious Correspondent," "Money-land," "The Very Unlucky Thieves," "Dream of Wealth" and "The House at the Bridge." The subjects include the humorous and the dramatic, but totaling free from any coarse or offensive features. In addition to the pictures there are new illustrated songs and a most pleasing musical program by Prof. Whitney. Don't miss the Academy bill.

THEATRE LA SCALA

Yesterday's offering at the Theatre La Scala was just what comedy lovers have been looking for and the laughs were very plentiful. "The Worm Will Turn" is a comedy with several new features and it brings the laughs every time. The story it tells concerns a kind old man, who unfortunately has married a widow and she not only bosses the house, but constantly refers to her late husband in a manner that makes her second quite sore. There are other pictures on the program fully as interesting and the songs are both well selected and finely sung.

BAD WASH OUT

On the Southern Pacific in California

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 15.—One hundred and sixty-three feet of the Southern Pacific railroad over the American river has been washed away by the flood waters resulting from the storm prevailing in the large part of the state. The railroad has been cut off from all its overland routes excepting this part of the state excepting only its southern lines.

KERN RIVER OVERFLOWS

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Jan. 15.—Both the north and south levees which protect the city and surrounding country from the overflow of the Kern river gave way yesterday. More than one hundred men worked all night attempting to close the breach, and if there is no additional rain it is believed that they will be successful.

ASK DIVORCE

THREE WOMEN TELL OF HUSBAND'S FAILINGS

BOSTON, Jan. 15.—Lueta S. Gay of Brookline, testifying yesterday in the Suffolk divorce court against her husband, Nelson M. Gay, a stock broker, said that he had contracted gross and confirmed habits of intoxication after their marriage, in 1901. She told the court that he led parades about their flats early in the morning, played the piano when everyone else in the house was asleep (and once went for a stroll scarcely clad and did not return for 48 hours). Decision was reserved.

Judge Fessenden dismissed the case brought by Hazel Winslip against her husband, Charles.

From affluence and social position in one of the most aristocratic families in Canada to the player of a piano in a North end dance hall was part of a story revealed in a non-contested suit by Mrs. Alice F. Foster, now of Boston, against her husband, Asa Foster, whom she testified went into voluntary bankruptcy in 1896, with liabilities aggregating $200,000.

Mrs. Foster is the daughter of the advisory counsel of the Canadian Pacific Railroad company, a brother of a Canadian deputy and a relative of the lord chief justice of Canada. Her husband is the son of a very wealthy railroad contractor and of equal prominence in social circles.

They were married July 17, 1877, at Quebec, and came to Boston 21 years ago. Soon after they arrived in this city, he refused to work according to the testimony of Mrs. Foster.

She told him in August 1st and does not know where he is.

ALLARD ARRESTED

MONTREAL, Jan. 15.—W. J. Allard of South Hero, Vt., who after being arrested on a charge of grand larceny shot a deputy sheriff and then broke out of jail, was arrested yesterday at Valley Field, Que. An extradition warrant was taken out for his arrest. He was quiet, but it is expected that Allard will waive extradition and return to Vermont today.

BRITISH BARK FLOATED

PROVINCETOWN, Jan. 15.—The British barkentine W. W. M. Loughlin, which has been lying in the harbor since she ran aground on Wed. and two weeks ago, is to be floated. She was in the harbor of New York in 1907, the time she was with her crew comprising 200 men, and it is believed that she will be floated and loaded with lumber and lumber to St. John, N. B., to New York.

EIGHT HOUR DAY

Trades and Labor Men Confer
With the Mayor

The municipal committee of the trades and labor council, by Mayor Brown's invitation, called at the mayor's office last evening and conferred with him relative to the working of the eight hour law in city departments.

JOSEPH F. CONVERY

more than eight hours a day there was no law to prevent him from so doing. All that was necessary for the man to do was to request of his employer that he be allowed to work more than eight hours.

Mayor Brown promised the labor men who called on him last night that he would investigate and see what departments were doing as to the observance of the eight hour law, and he said he would consider a breach of that law by the head of a department sufficient cause for removal.

The delegation that visited the mayor last night included: Joseph F. Convery, president of the Trades and Labor council; Frank M. Bell, secretary of the Trades and Labor council; Peter Desmond, leather workers' union; Michael A. Lee, vice president of the Trades and Labor council; Wm. E. Sproule, president of the Street Railway Men's union; Thomas J. Reagan, president of the Textile council; William H. Brown, Typographical union; Thomas Cull, president of the Steam Fitters' union; John J. Mahoney, Typographical union; Frank Cox, Printing Pressmen's union.

The story of the passage of the eight hour law was read by Mr. Convery and he read the law itself, which states in substance that employees of the city shall not be required to work more than eight hours a day, or 48 hours a week.

As to alleged violations of the law, Mr. Convery started with the police department. "In this department," he said, "the day shift works nine hours a day. In the street department the teamsters average 11-12 hours a day. They get to work at 5:30 a. m., to clean their horses. At night they return at different hours."

"When this matter was brought up before, the teamsters were told that they would receive a reduction of 40 cents a day, or $1.60 a week."

"What would you suggest to overcome this?" asked Mayor Brown. "Extra help at the barn would be one solution. The teamster might be relieved of the work of getting his horses ready. There may be 35 or 40 teamsters."

"Of course there are some men in the department who want to work more than eight hours. It is optional with them. It seems to be human nature for some people to reach out and get all they can. I've been accused of that myself, you know."

Mr. Convery referred to the health department, and said there were instances of eight hour violations.

So far as carpenters were concerned, Mr. Convery said this craft would have put in a bill for 44 hours a week had business conditions last year justified it.

"Why should the man with the pick and shovel have to go to work earlier than the bank man?" asked Mr. Convery.

The mayor asked Mr. Convery as to City Solicitor Hill's ruling and Mr. Convery said his ruling was that if a man wanted to work more than eight hours a day he could so inform his employer and that settled it. Mr. Convery said that when he heard that ruling he asked the city solicitor if there was such a thing as an eight hour law, and the city solicitor told him he didn't think there was.

Mr. Sproule said he believed that the proper application of the eight hour law would solve the problem of the unemployed. "The trouble today is," he said, "that those who are in power do not enforce the law, but interpret it against the interests of the laboring man. We all believe in the voice of the people, and the people have spoken emphatically on this question. While city solicitors and others in power express themselves against labor laws, they know in their own hearts that the laws are right, that the people should rule."

"We have the law. No man can say it is not constitutional if he is fair. There has never been an injunction placed on this law. Let us try this law in the courts if necessary, and if it comes before us we will go to the legislature and have the law amended. No man has the right to exceed the eight hours, for when he does that he is setting himself against the people. That man should leave the city's employ and go into a corporation where extra hours are not only permitted but advocated."

What would you suggest to overcome this?" asked Mayor Brown. "Extra help at the barn would be one solution. The teamster might be relieved of the work of getting his horses ready. There may be 35 or 40 teamsters."

may be asked, I say the real tax-payer is the working man. He pays the rents and he represents the bulk of the merchants' business. The so-called tax-payer should be the last man to object to an eight-hour day.

"What was the principal objection to the eight-hour day? Was it stubbornness on the part of the head of the department?" asked the mayor.

"We have the impression that it was. There was a list started which men signed requesting permission to work more than eight hours a day. Where this list started I do not know. Supt. Morse said he found it on his desk."

"If there are any better conditions coming to the working man," said Mr. Convery, "we naturally look to the government to set the pace. There is nothing in the eight-hour law which says that an employee may work over eight hours by asking for the privilege."

Mayor Brown said he would look into the matter and he promised that if he found the head of a department violating the law he would deem such violation sufficient cause for removal. The mayor, however, said he did not know if the aldermen and councilmen would sustain him in making such removal. Before adjourning the committee called the mayor's attention to the practice of the school committee in not calling for bids for the contract of printing the department report.

DIED BY POISON

Mrs. Kelleher's Daughter's Body Exhumed

SOMERVILLE, Jan. 15.—The exhuming yesterday of three additional bodies of members of the family of Mary Kelleher, who died while in Mrs. Kelleher's home under conditions believed to be suspicious, led to the belief that the authorities of Middlesex county regard the case as one of wholesale poisoning. It was learned yesterday from a person connected with the investigation in an official capacity that the examination of the victim of Katherine Kelleher, a daughter, whose body was exhumed a fortnight ago, disclosed a sufficient quantity of arsenic to cause death. Six persons, members of Mrs. Kelleher's immediate family, died at her home within three years. The bodies which were exhumed yesterday were those of William and Mary Kelleher, children of the woman held under suspicion. At present Mrs. Kelleher is awaiting trial on two charges of arson, to one of which she has admitted her responsibility. The arrest of Mrs. Kelleher shortly after the breaking out of a fire in the home of her employer on Dec. 11; first attracted attention to an earlier blaze in the same house and to the series of mysterious deaths in the woman's household. She denied all knowledge of the latest fire, but admitted setting the first, giving no reason. She was examined as to her sanity, but experts could find no signs of aberration.

The three bodies unearthed yesterday were also turned over to the Harvard college chemists for examination. It is expected that an official report on the matter will be forthcoming soon.

Put An End to Indigestion and Stomach Distress Now

Miserable indeed is the man or woman whose digestive system is unstrung—who goes to the table and can not eat or what little is eaten seems to fill them and lays like a lump of lead in the stomach, refusing to digest. If you, dear reader, suffer this way and will put on your wraps now and get from your Pharmacist a 50-cent case of Diapiesin and eat one 22-grain Triangule after your next meal you would appreciate, five minutes later, how long you suffered unnecessarily.

There will be no more indigestion—no misery in the stomach—no sour risings or belching of Gas, no Heartburn, Flatulency or Eructations of undigested food and acid or feeling of Nausea, Fullness, Headache or other symptoms of a weakened Stomach.

Stomach trouble and indigestion vanish like snow before the blazing sun.

When Diapiesin works your Stomach rests—gets itself in order. Diapiesin purifies and sweetens a sour stomach and freshens the intestines without the use of laxatives, and what is more, it increases the gastric juices. This is what your stomach is begging for—more and better digestive juices. This is what makes you hungry and want to eat, and you can rest assured that you then eat will be taken care of properly and not left in the stomach to ferment and turn to gas and acid, and poison the breath with nauseous odors.

Get a 50-cent case from your druggist now—you ought to have Diapiesin about the house always. Should one of your family eat something which does not agree with him, or her, or for a Sour Stomach or Excessive Gas, one Triangule will always give immediate relief.

woolen and worsteds, suitings, trousseaus and overcoatings. The business is a very old and established one of good repute and made many fine goods that found ready sale direct.

The capacity is from 225 to 250 pieces per week. There are fourteen (14) sets of cards with the auxiliary machinery except for worsted yarns; water, steam and electric powers.

The attendance was noticeable for its size, activity and interest. The sale took place in the dressing room. There were five or six bidders who lasted almost to the end, while at the beginning the bidders numbered quite twelve, all from a distance with the exception of two. The purchaser was Arthur G. Meyer, 66 Leonard street, New York city. From the beginning to the end of this transaction there were many references to show the favor in which textile manufacturing is held today.

The interest taken in the sale is well illustrated by correspondence entered into with the Messrs. Conant from many sources before the day of sale. The property was sold through liquidation five years ago for $31,000 and brought last Tuesday about $45,000.

The mill was in full operation and the new purchaser will take possession without the stopping of operation for a single day.

The assessed valuation of the plant was $64,000. The fact that eleven (11) bidders out of twelve were disappointed, three or four of them bitterly so, tends to the opinion that the property brought a good price. Locally the price realized was much greater than anticipated.

LINONINE (Emulsion of Flax Seed)

HOW SICKNESS COMES

Most fatal sicknesses have their beginnings in a simple "cold" or in a slight cough.

Consumption first shows in a cough. Bronchitis is accompanied by a cough.

The first stage of La Grippe is a "cold."

Pneumonia is preceded by cough and violent "cold."

Croup—that terrible malady of childhood—comes solely as a condition of a "cold."

Rheumatism generally follows neglect after exposure and the consequent "cold" or cough.

Kidney Troubles, including Bright's disease and other fatal complications, are often due to a "cold" which settles in that region.

And there are countless other grave sicknesses which are recognized by the medical profession as having their direct or indirect cause in a neglected "cold" or cough.

$100,000.00 TO MAKE A PERFECT MEDICINE.

Linonine is a blood food—the most helpful thing in all medicine for you. More than one hundred thousand dollars have been expended in making this Flaxseed Emulsion the most perfect food medicine in the world.

This Flax Seed Oil made in this special manner is combined with other healing and body-building elements and by a series of intricate, scientific processes, requiring 120 hours, is emulsified into its delicious cream form. Children and adults alike speak of Linonine as being "sweet as cream." Physicians have prescribed Linonine for years.

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilote, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1909. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public

This is by far the largest daily average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

THE OAKLAND SEWER.

It would be a serious matter if any considerable part of the work done upon the Oakland sewer should be destroyed by a cave-in. It should be put in proper shape to withstand the effect of the weather.

SENATOR FORAKER'S ATTACK.

Senator Foraker appeared in a rather unfavorable light when he attacked the president for violating the law in his efforts to find the culprits in the Brownsville affair. The same attack coming from a man who had not himself been tarred with the black brush would have been more effective.

THE MUNICIPAL EMPLOYMENT BUREAU.

Mayor Brown means all right in establishing an employment bureau at city hall. It is to be hoped that the "municipal register," as he terms it, will prove a success. Some method of helping the unemployed is very desirable, and if this scheme adopted by Mayor Brown proves practical, it should be helped along even to the extent of paying whatever expense may be attached to running it. It will enable anybody desirous of helping the unemployed to reach a large number of them without difficulty.

THE LOBBY STILL IN POWER.

The effort to abolish the lobby on Beacon Hill has proved an utter failure. The legislature evidently does not want it abolished. The members, no doubt, prefer to have the lobbyists come to them rather than go to the lobbyists. Were the latter cashiered from the state house they would establish headquarters in the vicinity and have the legislators go to see them. Many of the legislators look to the lobby for guidance on some of the most important matters of legislation in spite of the fact that the lobby exists to guard and promote certain special interests. The state house lobby will be as active this year as ever before.

CONGRESS VS. PRESIDENT.

The United States senate stands upon the constitutional right of congress to demand from the heads of departments any papers necessary to guide it in its action upon measures under discussion. This right was flatly denied by the president recently when the senate asked the attorney general why he did not proceed against the steel trust for absorbing a certain company. This is one of the constitutional questions raised by the president's usurpation of authority which the constitution does not seem to warrant.

When President Roosevelt retires there will be a number of such questions to be decided by the supreme court or some other legal authority.

ONE OF THE SILLY MEASURES.

Some joker has presented a bill to the legislature providing that a man who is struck or run over by an automobile can seize the machine and hold it until he is indemnified.

If by any possibility such a bill could become law, its operation would surely be laughable. The man who is run over by an auto is usually not in condition to chase and capture the machine. Besides, if the capture means forfeiture, the claimant will take care to increase his speed after he knocks a man down. Moreover, under such a silly arrangement it would not be unlikely that some men who wanted to capture a machine would lie down in front of one and claim they were run over.

We do not think the lobby will permit the passage of any such foolish law. There is no question that in spite of all its faults, the lobby does secure the defeat of a great number of very foolish measures.

TO PREVENT MINE EXPLOSIONS.

At the Lick colliery in West Virginia the other day 100 lives were lost by an explosion. It was but two weeks before when fifty lives were lost by a similar explosion in the same colliery. This loss of life is fearful. If it occurred in a railroad wreck the whole country would be shocked with the details. But it occurs down deep in a mine where nobody is left to tell the terrible tale.

Congress should appropriate ample funds to be spent for inspection and other means of preventing these mine disasters in which so many lives are lost.

There is difficulty in enforcing the laws for the prevention of railroad accidents. How much more difficult is it to cause mine owners to go to the expense of providing for the safety of the men employed in their mines?

The very fact that explosions occur so often proves that the preventive measures are insufficient. It is a matter that should receive the prompt attention of congress.

THE NEW PRESIDENT OF HARVARD.

From all accounts Prof. Lowell is eminently fitted by training and experience to fill successfully the presidency of the great university of Harvard. As a scholar and a writer he stands higher than did Doctor Eliot when he took charge of the university. Eliot, however, proved to be a great administrator and a man of great executive ability. It remains to be seen whether Professor Lowell will show equal ability in that direction. There are many very fine scholars, very learned men and eminent writers who can never bring themselves to master the details of administration so essential to the success of an institution like Harvard.

Possibly Prof. Lowell has this gift in addition to his scholarly attainments. He comes from a great family of business men, being the grandson of Francis Cabot Lowell for whom this city is named. The people of Lowell and the other mill cities of the Merrimack valley in which the business genius of Francis Cabot Lowell is a matter of local history, will have great faith in the ability and the versatility of the new president of Harvard.

SEEN AND HEARD

Don't lose sight of the fact that laughter is one of the best means known to science for the correction of dyspepsia, stomach and nervous diseases. An eminent Russian physician is authority for this statement.

No man can truly feel for the poor without feeling in his pocket.

Men, like books, have at each end a blank leaf—childhood and old age.

Some people have a perfect genius for getting in the way and starting there.

It is when a woman tries to whistle that the great glory of her sex is seen without being heard very much.

It is a good sign to see a man wipe the perspiration from his brow, but a bad sign to see him wipe the moisture from his lips as he comes up out of the cellar.

There is nothing in act that can waterflood the expression upon the face of a person who has a piece of nut lodged beneath the plate of his false teeth.

We overheard a man saying the other day that he had been married twenty years, and had never given his wife a cross word. Perhaps he did not dare to.

Eye was the only woman who never threatened to go and live with her mamma, and Adam was the only man who never tantalized his wife about "the way mother used to look."

A slight which will readily bring tears to a person's eyes is that of a dandy man whistling himself red in the face to call his dog, which is all the time wagging his tail vigorously at the man's feet.

Artemus Ward called on a friend the night before one of his panama lectures. There were some three or four large roaches scurrying about the room, and they attracted his attention. "I am very fond of roaches," he said.

Once, in my own home, I found a roach struggling in a bowl of water. I took a half walnut shell and put him in it. It made a good boat. I gave him a couple of toothpicks for oars. Next morning I saw that he had fastened a hair to one of the toothpicks, and had evidently been fishing.

Then, overcome with exhaustion, he had fallen asleep. The sight moved me. I took him out, washed him, gave him a spoonful of egg, and let him go. "That roach never forgot my kindness, and now my home is full of roaches."

ple who can tell; the men themselves might often tell if they were asked. Anyway, watching them and asking about them will not cost hard-earned money; there will be that much in it at the least. We imagine there would be good houses drawn if a number of successful men in any city could be induced to appear on an evening and tell other people how they obtained their grip and mastery on the affairs of this life. It would be useful and helpful, and in a way fascinating; and of course it would be essential to tell everything in every case.

AMERICA'S GENEROSITY

Providence Journal: The general contributions from America in the hour of need seem to have made an immense impression upon all classes of Italians. It is said that the Italian Red Cross never before had enough money to meet its requirements in a crisis. One consequence of the demonstration, it is said, is to increase the belief of the poorer Italians in America as the land of promise. Anything is possible, they think, in a country which sends out money so freely. That impression is not new in Europe, and it accounts for a considerable part of our immigration. In fact, it is predicted that, with so many persons made homeless by the earthquake and with so much distress that can only be temporarily assuaged at best, the number of Italian immigrants to American ports will steadily show a marked increase.

PRESIDENT'S VITUPERATION

New York Evening Post: The president, in a burst of reckless vituperation, has grossly insulted the members of congress. When taken to task, two courses were open to him; he might prove his charges true; or, he could not do that he might withdraw his offensive words and apologize. Mr. Roosevelt did neither. The natural result was the arraignment of his judgment and the impairment of his prestige. No air of bravado about this, such as is now reported from the White House, can conceal the real nature of the occurrence. Mr. Roosevelt may pretend not to care, but we may be sure he does care. He has said that there was to be "no Andrew Johnson business" in his administration. But now, not only has he got himself at loggerheads with congress as Johnson did, but finds himself solemnly declared by the house to be guilty of a more serious moral fault than Johnson was ever charged with. No loud rough rider laughter can make this appear a joke.

BIG TOBACCO PURCHASE

R. G. Sullivan, manufacturer of the celebrated 7-20-4 cigar, has just consummated one of the largest purchases of Havana tobacco recorded in New England in years, securing thereby 2600 bales of the choicest filler, which will be used in the manufacture of his popular cigar. The tobacco purchased represents the finest grades of several of the plantations of Santa Clara, where the best Havana tobacco is cultivated. The consignment will furnish filler for between 15,000,000 and 20,000,000 cigars. Last year's output was over 15,000,000.

SUIT ENTERED

WOMAN ASKS $20,000 FROM BOSTON & MAINE

CONCORD, N. H., Jan. 15.—Suit has been brought against the Boston & Maine railroad for $20,000 damages, the plaintiff being Mary J. Angwin of Concord, administratrix of the estate of her husband, George W. E. Angwin. Angwin was a brakeman on the Boston & Maine railroad for 20 years, performing his duties upon the Concord branch by an overhead bridge. The case is interesting as being the first in this county and probably in the state brought under the federal employers' liability act, which was passed last April. The contention is that a Boston & Maine railroad, being a corporation engaged in an interstate business, is subject to this provision of a federal act in this case.

WOUND WAS FATAL

Umbrella Penetrated to Lexington Man's Brain

BOSTON, Jan. 15.—Henry C. Fay, Jr., 42 years old, son of a retired Presbyterian minister, who lived at Bedford and Revere streets, Lexington, died about 8.45 last night at the relief hospital as a result of an umbrella being jabbed into his right eye, the point of the steel penetrating the brain. Frederick J. De Lude of West Medford was arrested at his home at midnight on the charge of having caused the death of Fay.

So far as the police have been able to learn, Fay had been in Boston during the afternoon and about 8.15 attempted to go into a saloon at the corner of Court and Sudbury streets. Fay was a cripple, walking as best he could on two artificial legs. It appears that a man who is supposed to be De Lude, who for some time past has been employed in a Washington street saloon, was entering the place at the same time as Fay. Some controversy ensued, blows were struck and in the heat of the argument it is alleged that De Lude jabbed his umbrella at Fay, striking him in the eye.

The injured man fell unconscious and remained on the street until officers of the Joy street station arrived and sent him to the hospital.

The police have secured several witnesses of the assault. Among these are Josiah Foreman and his daughter, who conduct a frankfurter stand near the place, and John Doyle of Raymond street, Allston.

There are conflicting stories regarding the cause of the trouble. It is said that Fay tried to force his way through the folding doors ahead of the man who committed the assault, and that a fight ensued. On the other hand, it is said that De Lude provoked the quarrel.

De Lude, who is 45 years old and lived with his wife at 103 Harvard street, West Medford, was arrested by Sergt. Lowell and Patrolmen Buffum and Connors of the Medford force. He was intoxicated and unable to give the police any account of himself or his doings. He did not realize the seriousness of the charge against him.

Shortly after midnight two Boston officers went to Medford and brought De Lude to this city, where he will be held pending the investigation of the death of Fay. He has lived in Medford about two years.

ROYAL ARCANUM

Officers of Highland Council Installed

Highland council, 970, Royal Arcanum, held a largely attended meeting last night, at which its newly elected officers were installed by District Deputy Dr. Joseph A. Meenan of Industry council and suite.

The new officers of the council are: Regent, Albert H. Bixby, V. R.; Arthur H. Dana; orator, Fred Jones; secretary, W. D. Hill; collector, A. M. Ham; treasurer, J. P. Butterfield; chaplain, P. R. Kinney; guide, W. J. Carey; warden, John Oliver; sentry, Fred Rand; and trustee, A. G. Walsh.

At the close of the installation, remarks were made by the district deputy and other brothers, and a past regent's jewel was presented to the retiring regent, who had so ably performed the duties of his office the past year.

Highland council has been very successful of late, both in securing new members and in assisting in various ways the committees of other councils in promoting those objects which are for the best interests of the order.

Much interest is being taken in the work of the Hospital Relief association, which has become a part of the order in Lowell, and is furnishing hospital treatment to those of the members who become sick or disabled.

After remarks by the various speakers, the meeting was closed and the brothers repaired to the hall below, where a banquet was provided, consisting of turkey and all the fixings, and a general good time was enjoyed by all.

It is the wish of the new officers to make this year, if possible, even more successful than last, and they ask the aid of all the members to assist them in their efforts.

SPENT $80,000

For Drink in a Few Years

In the district court at Cambridge yesterday, Stephen B. Howe, aged 33, of Lynn, was charged with drunkenness. He was arrested 10 days ago while sleeping in the carriage of a prominent citizen which was left standing at the curb while the owner entered a store.

A few weeks ago he was pulled out of the water at Long wharf. At one time he was worth more than $100,000, it is said.

In explaining Howe's arrest to the court, Capt. James E. Murray said: "Your honor, I understand that Howe has spent $100,000 within a few years through his drinking habits."

"I beg the court's pardon," interrupted Howe. "It was only $30,000." Howe said he had an uncontrollable impulse to drink.

Judge Almy continued the case until Jan. 18. Meanwhile Howe will be kept under observation at the house of correction, East Cambridge, and Dr. L. L. Bryant and Dr. Edwin U. Utley will examine him as to his sanity.

INSTALLATION

BY CLUB SOCIAL DE PAWTUCKETVILLE

Club Social de Pawtucketville held a smoke talk and installation of officers last evening, with large attendance. The officers installed were:

President, Eugene G. Roussin; vice president, Dolphus Robert; secretary, L. N. Milot; assistant secretary, Antonio Milotte; treasurer, Frederic Theriault; assistant treasurer, Edmund Lafortune; sergeant-at-arms, Edmond Chouinard.

ZELTIN CAUGHT

Missing Yeggman is in Quebec

WOBURN, Jan. 15.—Word was received here yesterday that a man, answering the description of Chris Zeltin, the missing member of the trio of yeggmen who shot up the town Feb. 6, last year, was in custody at Quebec, Can.

There have been many similar rumors here since the shooting, all of which have been investigated without satisfactory results, but in this case the evidence seemed so positive that Chief of Police Charles F. McDermott left here yesterday for the Canadian city.

He was accompanied by a man who knew Zeltin well and who can positively state whether the suspect is the man so long sought by the police. It is believed that the news of the man's arrest at Quebec came from a member of the Litt colony at Jamaica Plain, with whom Zeltin was known to be acquainted.

The chief laid his information before District Attorney Higgins and had his authority for making the visit.

PARISIAN SAGE

IT GROWS HAIR AND CURES DANDRUFF

Yes, Parisian Sage, the most invigorating hair restorer, grows hair; the women of America, who have luxuriant hair, know it does, and that is why thousands of attractive women throughout the land are regularly using it.

For years this almost marvelous grower of lustrous and beautiful hair was confined to the elite of Europe and New York city, but about two years ago it was given to a select list of druggists, and today can be obtained in any city or town in America where society women of refinement dwell.

Parisian Sage is the most delightful hair tonic in the world. It makes the hair soft, lustrous and luxuriant in a few days. It is performed most faithfully and is not sticky or greasy. It stops itching scalp, cures dandruff and itching scalp in two weeks or money back.

This is what Mrs. Elizabeth B. Anderson, Mechanicsburg, Pa., writes: "I had given up hope of ever being cured of dandruff, when I purchased a bottle of Parisian Sage. It has entirely removed the dandruff, and has started a growth of new hair, and all this after having been troubled for 15 years. I cheerfully recommend Parisian Sage."

Carter & Sherburne are the regular appointed agents in Lowell for Parisian Sage, and they will sell you a large bottle under a right guarantee for the people living in towns where Parisian Sage is not obtainable can get it direct for 50 cents a bottle, all charges prepaid, from the American Mailers, Giroux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y. The girl with the auburn hair is on every package.

Not a dollar's worth of merchandise purchased for sale occasions. Every item comes from our own staple line, thus insuring satisfactory purchases at half and less.

MISS ARNOLD

TO ADDRESS LOCAL SOCIETY FOR ENFRANCHISEMENT

The Lowell Society for the Enfranchisement of Women held its regular meeting in the Free church, Middlesex street, yesterday afternoon. Miss Isabelle L. Moses, chairman of the petition committee of the Massachusetts association, was present and presented the plan of the national association, to secure a million signatures to a petition to the senate and house of representatives of the United States. The members of the association who were present, listened with interest to Miss Moses, and promised for the association that Lowell would do its best to further the movement. One hundred thousand signatures are wanted in Massachusetts. The petition reads as follows:

"We the undersigned citizens of the United States, over 25 years of age, hereby petition your honorable body to submit to the legislatures of the several states for ratification, an amendment to the national constitution which shall enable women to vote."

It was voted to secure a speaker at a meeting to be held Mar. 25, Miss Arnold of England, who is a sister of Mrs. Humphrey Ward, a niece of Matthew Arnold, and a granddaughter of Thomas Arnold of Rugby. Miss Edmund, chairman of the program committee stated that Miss Arnold could be secured on that date, and brought the matter before the association, in her report.

Miss Yvonne Lemaire, for the membership committee, presented interesting plans for enlarging the membership. Mrs. C. E. Church reported for the committee on legislation.

It was voted to hold a special meeting, to which friends may be invited, the home of Mrs. C. E. Church, 151 Princeton street, on Thursday evening, January 22, at 7:30 o'clock. It is expected that as a part of the program, Mrs. Sarah Swan Gilpin will read an interesting paper prepared by her.

CONFERENCE HELD

The Administration of Naval Affairs Discussed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—An important conference on the administration of naval matters by the navy department, which may result in the reorganization of the system at present in vogue in that department, is being held today. Criticism of the naval administration under the present bureau system has resulted in the bringing together today of ten men of wide experience in navy department matters. The meeting was decided upon after a number of conferences between the president and Secretary Newberry, both agreeing as to the wisdom of securing the ideas of certain civilians and retired officers whose experience in naval matters make their opinions of especial value.

Those who are in attendance at the meeting in the office of the secretary of the navy are: Supreme Court Justice Moody and Paul Morton of New York, former secretaries of the navy; U. S. Judge Dayton of West Virginia, former chairman of the house committee on naval affairs; Herbert Satterlee, the present assistant secretary of the navy; Rear Admiral Robley Evans, retired; Stephen R. Luce, retired, both on special duty at the naval war college, Newport, R. I.; Rear Admiral Folger, retired, former naval chief of ordnance; Rear Admiral Cowles, chief of the bureau of equipment; and Commander William Feltman, head of the naval training station at Newport, R. I., who will act as recorder.

Secretary Newberry did not participate in the discussion. After explaining the purpose of inviting the men to take part in the conference he took his leave and attended the semi-weekly cabinet meeting.

President Roosevelt has invited those who participated in the conference and Secretary Newberry to luncheon at the White House and a continuance of the discussion will follow and probably later a meeting with him will be held at the executive offices when some definite conclusions as to what action may be necessary in any for the formation of a plan for the actual reorganization of the navy will be reached.

THE STATE SENATE

Votes to Exclude Legislative Agents and Counsel

BOSTON, Jan. 15.—The Massachusetts senate without debate adopted yesterday the recommendation presented by the committee on rules, excluding legislative agents and counsel from the senate chamber and corridors.

On motion of Senator Samuel Ross of New Bedford the senate voted to take from the files of last year the petition of N. P. Sowle for unlimited liquor licenses in New Bedford.

The senate also adopted resolutions on the recent calamity in Italy.

Among the petitions filed in the house of representatives today was that of Frank Wright to authorize the New York, New Haven & Hartford R. R. Co. to acquire and hold the stock of the Berkshire Street Railway Co. In its annual report the Massachusetts fish and game commission recommends a new system of measurement by which the legal length of lobsters shall be four and a half inches over the top of the shell and exclusive of the tail. The board also recommends the leasing of lands below high water mark for the cultivation of mussels; and further recommends that all lobster dealers and fishermen be licensed by the state.

must as the philosopher once remarked. "We intend that each member of the Guards shall be equipped with a key to the armory lest future generations be telling the queer stories that the present tell of the Murphy's armory and its one key."

The "murphy" in the armory, on the menu this evening will be "clams."

"Harvard Square" does not appear in the street directory, but is said to be located at the junction of Whipple, Swift and Kinsman streets.

CLANCY GUARDS

Will Banquet at the Armory Tonight

The "Ancients" of Lowell, the Clancy Guards, will hold their first annual banquet at their armory in Harvard square, this evening, and a most enjoyable time is anticipated by all the members.

Col. John E. Clancy, in whose honor the Guards are named, will preside, but the toastmaster will be Councilman John P. Mahoney, who will also represent the city of Lowell. As the organization is yet in its infancy and the new uniforms have not arrived, it has been decided to make the first a quiet affair and neither Mayor Brown nor the press has been invited. Later, however, when the guards have donned their uniforms and have been drilled, a more elaborate affair will be pulled off.

It has been decided to send a special invitation to Col. Daniel Murphy, now of Tyngsboro, the gallant organizer and fearless head of the Murphy Rifle Guards, once the price of the "Aere," to be present tonight, if possible, and have him review the deeds of the Murphy Rifle Guards and make such suggestions as he may think beneficial to the Clancy Guards, while an effort will also be made to have Jackie Connors present to relate the stirring tale of the famous "Montgomery Guards" of South Boston, Massachusetts.

Col. Clancy speaking of the new organization said: "It will be our earnest endeavor to make the guards a noble body of citizen-soldiers who will respond to the call to arms or to eat with equal alacrity. We will endeavor, to exemplify the glorious traditions of the Murphy Rifle Guards of fond memory, 'Dum vivimus, vivamus.'"

BOARD OF POLICE

Issues Order to Regulate Sunday Hotel Business

None But Bona Fide Guests Can be Served With Liquor on Sundays and Holidays — Business Must be Done in Regular Dining Rooms to Satisfy Board

After much serious consideration that the purpose of the customer is to procure food and not liquor, and numerous complaints, the board of police has finally decided to take the Sunday hotel business out of the region of doubt, and insist that no liquor will be sold to anybody except to those who meet all the requirements of bona fide guests. The board has ordered also that these guests shall be served in the regular dining rooms of the hotels and not in the rooms specially provided for the Sunday business. The order of the board practically forbids the serving of food and drink to callers at hotels on Sundays and holidays except where any reasonable person can be satisfied less he commended by the general public.

The board has arbitrary power in the premises. It could revoke the licenses of any hotel fairly convicted of violating the law even technically. The loss of a license costing $250, together with the consideration of leaving the hotel and barrooms practically idle, would be a very serious matter for any hotel proprietor. The order issued by the board will probably set matters right and satisfy the requirements of the law, while at the same time avoiding the extreme penalty of the revocation of licenses. The order of the board to take effect next Sunday is as follows:

Office of the Board of Police,
Lowell, Mass., Jan. 14, 1909.

To the Innholders of Lowell:

In view of the continuous unsatisfactory conditions with regard to the serving of liquor in your hotels on Sundays and holidays, the board of police of the city of Lowell, after due consideration, serve notice that on and after Sunday, Jan. 17, 1909, all persons resorting to the hotels for refreshment shall be required to observe the following requests:

First—All persons resorting to a hotel as guests on Sundays and holidays shall be served in no other room except the regular dining room, in the ordinary way.

Second—The serving of food and drink shall be eliminated except where any reasonable person would be satisfied that the purpose of the customer is to procure food and not liquor.

By order of the Board of Police,
JOHN J. FLAHERTY, JR., Clerk.

This order will affect some hotels more seriously than others, but on the whole, we believe it will eliminate the objectionable features of the hotel business on Sundays and holidays. The law is ambiguous to begin with, its interpretation depending largely upon the circumstances of each individual case and upon the individual view of the law. Hence the never ending conflict over the true meaning and intent of the law. This order of the board will overcome this and prevent the sale of liquor on Sundays and holidays to anybody who is not a bona fide guest resorting to the hotel for food rather than drink. The order may be more restrictive than the statute and it is not law of course, but the board of police can refuse to grant a license to any hotel that does not carry out the provisions of the order to the letter. That consideration will be sufficient to cause any hotel keeper who wishes to remain in the business to obey the order of the board.

While in session, the board granted transfers to W. S. Grady & Co., 140 Worthen street, from five to seven rooms, at the same location, and to Jeremiah F. Murphy & Co., from 61-63 Salem street, three rooms on first floor and cellar. These men are holders of first and fourth-class licenses as common victuallers and retail dealers.

The board of charities will organize next Monday evening. The mayor has the appointing of the chairman of the board, but he was not ready today to say who he would appoint. The mayor has summoned the board to appear in his office for conference this afternoon.

SLANDER CHARGE
NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—John H. Woodbury, the noted dermatologist and "beauty doctor," was arrested last night in his home, the Seaside Inn, at Seagate, on a warrant obtained from Justice Mallock in the Brooklyn County Court, by Stephen A. Emmons, a Gravesend contractor.

Emmons brought suit against Woodbury for $50,000 damages, charging the dermatologist with having slandered him in calling him publicly "a crook and a thief."

The men have had strained relations for several months over business matters, and three civil suits brought by Emmons against Woodbury are now pending in Brooklyn courts.

Two men from the sheriff's office, accompanied by Emmons, waited for Woodbury last night, and when he made his appearance at the Seaside Inn, which he owns, arrested him. They took him to the County Court building, where he was at once released upon a bail bond offered by William Emmons, a hotel man of the Coney Island section.

Woodbury owns much real estate in that territory, while Emmons does much of the contracting business there. He did some work for Woodbury and he alleges the latter did not pay him the price agreed upon. Emmons being something like a crook, as he is called in the papers, the suit was started in his dispute. The so-called slander occurred while the men were arguing over this.

CHARITY BOARD
Drapeau Now a Member of it

William Drapeau, the man appointed to succeed Eliezer H. Choquette on the board of charities, took oath of office today and he is now a full-fledged member of the board. Mr. Choquette's term expires today.

Those who came in contact with Mr. Choquette during his service on the board speak of him in the highest terms. "He was without exception the most faithful, able and conscientious public servant I ever met," said a member of the board today. "He formulated at least nine-tenths of the rules and regulations that have saved the city $50,000 within the last three years. He was absolutely unbiased and unprejudiced. He was fair in every way and, best of all, he was a man of brains. His is a working brain and it does not work in vain."

Mr. Choquette had no secrets to expose upon leaving the board. He had taken great pride in the work of the board, he had tried to do his best. "And," said he, "with the hearty co-operation of the other members and the superintendent, I think that I have not labored in vain." He said that the public in general does not appreciate, in fact, the very difficult problems that, at times, confront the board of charities, and these are problems before the board now, and that requiring the closest attention and investigation.

In order to bring about the proper solution of the problem, said Mr. Choquette, "Mr. Drapeau, whom I know and admire, will work as hard as I have worked."

Mr. Drapeau called at the office of the board of charities after having qualified in the city clerk's office and the subcommittee of what he said was

MUNICIPAL REGISTER

Number of Applications For Workers Filed Today

The work of keeping the municipal register bids fair to assume proportions that will require the sole attention of a clerk. Yesterday was the register's first appearance and 45 names were inscribed. That would not mean very much providing that only names and addresses were taken, but when to the name and address is added a bit of history it means a rather strenuous call on time.

Between 9 o'clock this morning and 2 o'clock this afternoon 45 names, 42 men and 3 women, were added and between these hours about all the time of the assistant superintendent of state aid, Miss Mary C. Brennan, was devoted to the register. It would seem that heads of departments and members of the city council are complying with the mayor's request to send all applicants for jobs to the municipal register department.

Mayor Brown is preparing a letter for the heads of departments relative to the enforcement of the eight hour law. He believes that the law can be enforced in all city departments.

TRACES OF POISON FOUND

SOMERVILLE, Jan. 15.—Acting Chief Perry of the local police announced today that large quantities of arsenic were found by the medical authorities in the viscera of the body of Catherine Kelleher, which was exhumed three weeks ago for examination in connection with the investigation of six deaths in the family of Mrs. Mary Kelleher in this city. Mrs. Kelleher is now being held on a charge of arson. The bodies of two other members of Mrs. Kelleher's family are undergoing a similar examination.

WITHDRAWAL OF MARINES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Admiral Dewey, president of the general board of the navy, has sent to Secretary Newberry a letter in which he cordially approves the withdrawal of the marines from the ships of the navy recently ordered by the president. He says the department intends to employ these men as an integral part of the navy and plans are worked out accordingly, but when embarked they will be on ships especially fitted to carry expeditionary forces an advanced base material. If there had been five thousand marines under his command at Manila bay the admiral says the city would have surrendered and there would have been no insurrection.

McCUMBER BILL

SENATE COMMITTEE TO GIVE FAVORABLE REPORT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The senate committee on agriculture today authorized a favorable report on the McCumber bill providing for the inspection and grading of grains. Under this bill national inspection is provided for and the department of agriculture is authorized to fix definite grades. In addition to the present laboratories there are established under the bill grain inspection offices at Portland, Me., Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, Superior, Wis., Kansas City, Seattle, Tacoma and San Francisco.

Rev. A. E. Paddecock of Weiser, Idaho, will preach in the First Trinitarian Congregational church next Sunday morning at 10:30.

Ex-Cashier Wrecked a Bank

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 15.—J. B. F. Rinehart, former cashier of Farmers and Drivers National bank of Waynesboro, which institution failed two years ago, was found guilty today of wrecking the bank and was immediately sentenced to serve fifteen years in the penitentiary by U. S. Judge James Young.

The jury found Rinehart guilty of all the eleven counts charging him with making false entries and with abstraction in transactions connected with the Greene county political campaign of 1905.

Tears trickled down the cheeks of the dazed banker when sentence was imposed. Immediately after the verdict had been returned a number of the jurors were instructed to confer with United States District Attorney Dunkle. This conference was for the purpose of procuring additional information concerning the alleged attempt to help a member of the jury for which two are now in custody and a third arrest is momentarily expected.

On the first indictment Rinehart was sentenced to serve ten years and was given five years on the second.

BULLET WOUND FATAL

STANTON, Pa., Jan. 15.—Nicholas Mathewson, brother of Christy Mathewson, the baseball pitcher, died today from a bullet wound in the head, self-inflicted at his home in Factoryville, Pa. It had been brought on a physical breakdown which it is thought, attracted to the end.

LADY BERESFORD CREMATED

PORTLAND, Eng., Jan. 15.—The funeral of Lady William Beresford took place from her late residence yesterday. Among those present were the Marquis of Waterford, Lord Castlereagh and Marquis Beresford and Mrs. Geo. Campbell-Welch. The body was taken to a crematorium, and the ashes, following the expressed wish of the deceased, were carried to Carraghmore, Ireland, for interment in the family burying place.

BOWLING NEWS MANAGER LAKE DAME SET FREE

The Wonders administered another defeat to the Connemaras last night, the score being 236 to 248 in favor of the followers of Deputy Welch. The deputy was on his mettle and started the good work in the first string when he sent the pins down to the tune of 158, while the man following him, Crossman, got 132. The Connemaras fell by the wayside in the first string, however, and managed to put up but 704, which was 104 less than the total string put up by the Wonders. In the second and third strings the Connemaras got down to business but the gain made by the Wonders in the first string could not be overcome.

The Centralvilles and Americans played a game in the Minor League, the Centralvilles taking all three points. The scores:

Says That Young Will Was Found Not Guilty of Murder

"There is not one word of truth in the story sent out from Boston a few days ago to the effect that the Boston club would consider a sale of Cy Young's release, and I wish you would make this statement as strong as possible," said Manager Fred Lake of the Boston Red Sox yesterday.

As it was Mr. Lake, who was credited with saying that Boston would consider an offer for the veteran pitcher, he was very anxious to impress on the newspaper man that he never even dreamed of the idea he was advertised as expressing.

"I feel quite sure," continued Mr. Lake, "that Mr. Young will remain with the Boston Americans just as long as he can play ball. I consider the veteran a valuable man to have with the team, even should he materially fall off in his effectiveness as a pitcher. They don't make many Cy Youngs and as long as I am with the club I shall certainly enjoy the presence of this grand ball player, and I know that Pres. John I. Taylor feels even stronger than I do about it."

This should settle the Young incident. Manager Lake received a long letter yesterday from Pitcher Frank Arrelanes dated at Santa Cruz, Cal., Arrelanes writing: "I am about to start out on a duck hunting trip with Hal Chase, of the New York club, as a companion. Chase is anxious to come back east next season and I hope everything will be fixed up for me to still a grand ball player."

Arrelanes said he himself was weighing 185 pounds and anxious to get to Hot Springs to work down to weight. Manager Lake is particularly well pleased at the showing made last season by the California ball players, as he displayed qualities that fit in well with a winning combination.

Among the callers at headquarters yesterday were John Hoy and Pitcher McMahon. Hoy was satisfied with his transfer to St. Paul, although he would have preferred a berth nearer home. McMahon, who is wintering at Woburn, will be with Wilkesbarre next season, and said that he was satisfied he will make good for Malachi Kittredge.

LOWELL MAN

CHOSEN TO OFFICE BY MASTER PAINTERS

BOSTON, Jan. 15.—The Society of Master Painters and Decorators of Massachusetts, closed its annual convention in this city last night with the election of the following officers: President, C. F. W. Hanson, Boston. Vice president, Frank E. Howard, South Boston. Secretary-treasurer, Wm. B. Wall, Somerville. Trustees, W. A. Houston, Lawrence; James Monney, Boston, and George W. Chase, Lowell.

DOVER, N. H., Jan. 15.—Special Police John Edward Dame was acquitted yesterday afternoon of the charge of murdering his foster father-in-law, Patrolman Walter S. Stirling, Aug. 23 last, by shooting him with a revolver during a hand-to-hand struggle in a corridor at the Stirling home on Portland street. Dame admitted the killing, but pleaded self-defense, and the jury so found, after nearly three hours' deliberation.

Nearly 100 spectators were in the courtroom when the jurors filed in to render their verdict at 4:30. Dame's father, ex-City Marshal John S. Dame, entered the courtroom with his son, but the latter's wife was too much excited to hear the verdict, and remained in the witness room.

In response to Clerk Roberts' question, "What do you say, Mr. Foreman, is the respondent at the bar guilty or not guilty?" Foreman Irving W. Goodwin replied "Not guilty." Immediately there was an outburst of hand-clapping and verbal expressions of approval of the verdict from the spectators. The demonstration caused a suspension of the court proceedings for some moments. When quiet was restored Chief Justice Wallace thanked the jurors for their services and excused them from further duty. He then ordered the prisoner discharged.

The moment he was free Dame was surrounded by his relatives and friends, who were profuse with their congratulations. Dame and his wife personally thanked the jurors and shook their hands as they left the room.

Dame, accompanied by his wife and his father, went direct to his parents' home on Essex street from the courthouse. The young couple will reside there. They were getting ready to move to the elder Dame's home from the Stirling house before the tragedy.

"SEV" DE DEYN

LOWELL FAVORITE INTERVIEWED BY MONTREAL PAPER

The Montreal Standard of recent date has the following interesting interview with Severin DeDeyn, the former Lowell actor, who comes here tonight in "The Wolf" at the opera house. Says the Standard:

Mr. Severin DeDeyn is a young actor who deserves to get along in his profession, and some of these days he is going to be heard from on Broadway. Mr. DeDeyn is not troubled with egotism, he has evidently gotten rid of that sort of thing, even if he was ever afflicted with the ego microbes. Seated in an arm chair in the lobby of the hotel, Mr. DeDeyn was inclined to be reminiscent over his career. He is a gentlemanly fellow, is a good conversationalist, setting forth his ideas in a frank and manly way.

He has worked his way from the ranks to my present position as one of the principals in the all-star cast of the second road company presenting "The Wolf," said Mr. DeDeyn, "and that way has not been by any means strewn with roses. I have played in my time for a salary of five dollars per week, and I have even played for one cent, and have had trouble getting enough food to keep body and soul together when I was young in the business; but that is the sort of thing after all to knock the nonsense out of a chap, and to teach him that the success that is earned in the hard school of experience is worth all that is paid for it in the long run."

"An actor should never take honest criticism otherwise than in good part. Good criticism stimulates and encourages a player to do better things; while biased criticism tends to discourage even the best of us. When I say honest criticism I mean that which is fair, impartial, balanced and intelligent. Criticism that is written by those who are qualified to criticize—those having some knowledge of the subject they are writing about other than that picked up from a mere superficial knowledge. This should never be taken exception to, and it seldom is, but there are critics and critics. And some of them are critics by courtesy only."

"I will tell you this story of a criticism of the honest, but naive kind which amused me. This incident happened some years ago. We were playing in a one-night stand, and the manager of the so-called opera house—who was manager, stage carpenter, bill poster, town constable, fire chief and ticket taker—was called to attend to some duties back on the stage. As I did not have to go on until the second act I was commanded to take the tickets at the door. After the audience was seated along comes a little boy with a fox terrier under his arm. He looked appealingly up at me.

"Well, Sonny, what do you want?" I asked him.

"Say, mister, how much is it to go in?"

"Ten cents up in the gallery," I answered.

"Oh, I've only got five cents. Would you let me in for that—if I give you the dog, too?"

"I'll take the five cents, but you keep the dog," I said.

When the show was over I met the boy at the door, the dog still under his arm.

"How did you like the show, Sonny?" I asked him.

"Well," he said, apologetically, "I didn't let you have the dog."

LATEST CAUGHT A WHALE

Captain Says His Catch is Worth $1000

PROVINCETOWN, Jan. 15.—The whaling industry had a brief but lucrative revival today when a forty-foot amphibia became entangled in the fish weirs in the cove and was gallantly harpooned by Capt. Josh Nickerson with his old bomb lance, while half the population of the town shouted encouragement across the harbor. Capt. Nickerson says he will get thirty barrels of oil and a couple of hundred pounds of bone out of the monster and bring him $500.

The whale had been reported in the bay for a day or two, but no one looked for his appearance in the harbor, and much less among the weirs in the cove. At daylight today a tremendous commotion was noticed in Jack Williams' weir and a couple of liveeaters immediately telephoned that there was a big whale among the weirs. Before Capt. Nickerson could be notified the whale broke clear of the Williams' weirs and started on a destructive cruise. Capt. Josh, one of the few re-

FAVOR MARINES ON SHIPS

This action was taken at a meeting of the committee following the taking of testimony for several days.

Rear Admiral Evans, the last witness heard, approved of the recent order of the president removing the marines from the ships and urged their organization into battalions but still to be a part of the navy.

FAMOUS CASINO THE O.M.I. CADETS

Canfield Offers it For Sale To Hold a Meeting This Evening

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Canfield's Casino, the famous show place of Saratoga Springs, where the elite dined and gambled in the heyday of past seasons, will settle down to a sober and respectable career in the future.

A committee of citizens from that health resort have been in negotiation with the agents of Richard Canfield with the object of purchasing the beautiful grounds and houses for a hospital place. According to good information everything has been settled except signing the papers.

This large piece of ground, which contains one of the most beautiful Italian gardens in this country, and the houses, which are filled with noted masterpieces, cost Canfield over $800,000. The price to be paid by the Saratogians is said to be $175,000, which represents a loss of $225,000 to Canfield.

The fame of the Casino was at its height three years ago, when John W. Gates, John A. Drake and other well known millionaires were making fabulous bets on the horses, and also trying to select the place where the elusive ball would drop after the dealer had spun the wheel.

Two years ago Canfield had some trouble with the villagers, and during that season hung out a sign offering the place for sale. Last year the dining halls were kept open and when the short racing season was over the announcement was made that the place would never be opened again.

GIVEN 3 YEARS

MAN FOUND GUILTY OF SLASHING A WOMAN

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—For following the custom of Sicily, land of his birth, and slashing the face of the woman who rejected his marriage offer, Tony Papola of 101 Fairmount avenue, Jersey City, was sentenced yesterday to three years in prison by Judge Carey.

"It may be the custom in Sicily to permit men to rear the beauty of women who scorn their offers of love," said the judge, "but in this country to slash a woman with a knife and disfigure her for life is an atrocious crime."

Annie Amador, of 11 West street, the victim, pleaded for the discharge of her suitor. She had forgiven him the attack which, in her opinion, was the depth of his devotion. The object of the attack was to prevent her marrying another man, and she said she was willing to marry Papola.

Judge Carey refused to listen to her pleading. The woman had tried to defeat the ends of justice, she said, and her mother called at the last moment and with a justice of the peace made her marry Papola. Warden Sawyer refused to permit the marriage except by order of the presiding judge.

EMMA GOLDMAN

The Anarchist Placed Under Arrest

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—Emma Goldman, the anarchist, and Ben Reiterman, who was widely known as the "king of hoboes," were arrested late last night as they were about to hold meetings they had previously announced and lodged in the city prison on eight charges to riot.

Rout as defined by state statutes is the assembly of two or more persons at a meeting where measures are advocated which if actually carried out would lead to riot. The police acted on the theory that each one of the meetings announced constituted such a conspiracy, and bail was fixed at $1000 cash or $2000 bond on each count.

William Burwale, who was dishonorably discharged from the army and sentenced to five years' imprisonment on Alcatraz island, the federal military prison here, by a court martial for shaking hands with the Goldman woman at a meeting held by her some months ago, was also placed under arrest because of his vigorous protest against the action of the police last night. Burwale was but recently given his liberty under a pardon from President Roosevelt.

TESTS MADE

TO FIND WHAT EFFECT SHIPMENT HAS ON OYSTERS

NEW HAVEN, Jan. 15.—Tests have been in progress for a week or more in this city by the office of Dr. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemical research of the United States government for the purpose of determining what effect the various modes of shipping oysters have upon that shell-fish. The work here is being carried on by Dr. W. D. Bigelow, chief of the division of foods of the bureau of chemistry, assisted by Dr. C. Duff of T. R. Raynor of Boston, J. C. Duff of New York, and Dr. Stiles of Washington. Extensive tests are being made of the shipping of oysters under the varying conditions used in the trade, the consignments going to Washington where they will be thoroughly examined. The shipments have been made from local shops, the oyster growers co-operating with the inspectors in every way. The oysters used were all taken from waters near New Haven under the eye of one of the chemists. Local oyster men are awaiting the outcome of the tests with considerable interest.

WANTS HER LETTER PUBLISHED

For Benefit of Women who Suffer from Female Ills

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was a great sufferer from female troubles which caused a weakness and broken down condition of the system. I read so much of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and had done for other suffering women I felt sure it would help me, and I must say it did help me wonderfully. My points all left me, I grew stronger, and within three months I was a perfectly well woman."

I want this letter made public to show the benefit women may derive from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.—Mrs. John G. Mott, 2125 Second St., North, Minneapolis, Minn.

Thousands of uncollected and genuine testimonials like the above prove the efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made exclusively from roots and herbs.

Women who suffer from these distressing ills peculiar to their sex and do not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

We never publish a testimonial letter without the special permission of the writer, and then only when we are sure it is genuine. Surely such valuable testimony, therefore, should create confidence in the minds of suffering women.

SLASHED WITH RAZOR

Billericia Man Got Off Easily in Police Court

Young Man Charged With Entering a Store—Boys Charged With Stealing Coal

Michael F. Curran of Billericia, who yesterday, while in a drunken frenzy, slashed Mrs. Martin Crotty of Church street, Billericia, with a razor, cutting her in back of the right ear, was in court but the only complaint against him was that of drunkenness, Mrs. Crotty having declined to appear against him.

Curran said he had nothing to say and the court imposed a fine of $5 and held him under $100 bonds to keep the peace for six months.

Attempt to Enter Store—Frank Perry, aged 17 years, was charged with attempting to break and enter and steal from the store of McGlinchey Brothers in Gorham street. Patrolman Doolan Ghoux, while patrolling his beat on January 4th, saw Perry leaving an alleyway near the McGlinchey store and upon calling to Perry, the latter took to his heels and ran. The officer knew Perry and upon seeing him at a later date questioned him as to what he had been doing in the alley. Perry gave some kind of an excuse, and when the officer told him that a window in the rear of the store had been broken he said that his brother and a boy named Perry were in the alley with him but he did not know what they had been doing.

Joseph McGlinchey, one of the members of the firm, testified that when he left the store on the night of the 4th everything was all right, but when he opened the store in the morning the rear window was broken.

Probable cause was found and Perry was held under $300 bonds for his appearance before the grand jury.

Drunken Offenders

Owen Valley of Pittsfield, N. H., came to Lowell on a visit a few weeks ago and liked the city so well that he extended his visit. A couple of weeks ago he was arrested for drunkenness and released. He was in again this morning and was fined $5.

Two first offenders were each fined $2.

Fined $25

Larceny of Coal

George J. McCarthy, aged 18 years, and George H. Douglas, aged 16 years, were arrested last evening afternoon for the larceny of coal, the boys having been gathered in by Sgt. Atkinson and Officers Dwyer and Ganley. The police claim that the boys have been stealing coal for several days past, taking it away from the cars in bags and selling it to foreigners.

McCarthy appeared in police court this morning and was charged with the larceny of 200 pounds of coal, valued at $1.50, the property of Fred H. Rourke. McCarthy entered a plea of guilty, but at the request of Deputy Welch the case was continued till tomorrow morning.

Douglas will be tried at the juvenile session next Friday morning.

WRITS ARE SERVED

By Sheriff Eveleth on 23 Liquor Saloons

Deputy Sheriff Eveleth was about town this morning visiting saloons and serving writs on the personal property of the licensees and incidentally putting in keepers until a bond is furnished in the 23 cases brought by W. T. S. Bartlett as guardian of a minor named Connelin, residing in Dracut, who, it is alleged, was sold intoxicating liquor in the 23 saloons named in the writs.

A report had it that some 50 dealers were to be sued, but such is not the case as there are only 23, though the number of violations may exceed 50. The law provides for a civil action rather than a criminal in cases of selling liquor to a minor and the parent or guardian of such minor may receive a verdict of $100 for each violation. Deputy Sheriff Eveleth declined to give out the names of the dealers upon whom service had been made, stating that if they desired to they could.

CITY OF MESSINA

To be Rebuilt on Different Site and Safer Plan

MESSINA, Jan. 15.—Signs of activity now that conditions are becoming more settled since the earthquake disaster are noticeable everywhere. Many persons who left the city immediately after the catastrophe are now returning anxious to start life anew, encouraged by the unanimity of the nation in deciding that Messina, Italy's advance sentinel between the Ionian and Tyrrhenian seas, shall rise again. The number of cars transporting fruit, which is one of the leading industries of the city, is increasing and cabs are being more frequently seen than at any time since the disaster.

Plans are being made for the building of a new town, to be situated on a field a mile distant from the ancient railroad station. This plan was adopted in order to hasten the work of reconstruction for the clearing of the site and the ruins of the ancient city were undertaken first more than a year would be required and the undertaking would be difficult.

The type of building which will be safest in the event of another earthquake is being discussed. It is remarked in this connection that the only building which withstood the quake was that of Dr. Camarero. This house was built on a platform of cement made of hollow bricks held together by wires. Prizes have been offered for the best project bearing on the work of reconstruction with building material, the durability of which offers the greatest guarantee of safety.

The American relief for the shattered steamer Bayern is being distributed in Sicily where the need is greatest. Nelson Gay of Boston is active in this work.

An urgent request for provisions has been received from Palermo and the Bayern will be sent to that port.

FOR CORPORATIONS' BENEFIT

BOSTON, Jan. 15.—That the so-called Sherman anti-trust act is for the benefit of corporations in suits of equity and not of individuals was the ruling of Judge Brown in the United States circuit court today in sustaining the demurrer of the defendant in the suits of Oaks Ames and Francis Breed against the American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

The plaintiffs alleged that they were stockholders in two so-called independent companies which the American Telephone Co. purchased and that their stock depreciated great in value, a damage which they sought to recover on the ground that the purchase of the two independent companies was for the purpose of preventing competition. The Telephone Co. demurred and was sustained.

EIGHT HOUR DAY

Trades and Labor Men Confer With the Mayor

The municipal committee of the Trades and Labor council, by Mayor Brown's invitation, called at the mayor's office last evening and conferred with him relative to the working of the eight hour law in city departments.

JOSEPH F. CONVERY

more than eight hours a day there was no law to prevent him from so doing. All that was necessary for the man to do was to request of his employer that he be allowed to work more than eight hours.

Mayor Brown promised the labor men who called on him last night that he would investigate and see what departments were doing as to the observance of the eight hour law, and he said he would consider a breach of that law by the head of a department sufficient cause for removal.

The delegation that visited the mayor last night included: Joseph F. Convery, president of the Trades and Labor council; Frank M. Bell, secretary Trades and Labor council; Peter Desmond, Leather Workers' union; Michael A. Lee, vice president Trades and Labor council; Wm. E. Sproule, president Street Railway Men's union; Thomas J. Reagan, president, Typographical union; William H. Brown, Typographical union; Thomas Cull, president Steam Fitters' union, John J. Mahoney, Typographical union; Frank Cox, Printing Pressmen's union.

The story of the passage of the eight hour law was read by Mr. Convery and he read the law itself, which states in substance that employees of the city shall not be requested to work more than eight hours a day, or 48 hours a week.

As to alleged violations of the law, Mr. Convery started with the police department. "In this department," he said, "the day shift works nine hours a day. In the street department the teamsters average 11-2 hours a day. They get to work at 5:30 a. m. to clean their horses. At night they return at different hours."

"When this matter was brought up before, the teamsters were told that they would receive a reduction of 50 cents a day, or $1.50 a day."

"What would you suggest to overcome this?" asked Mayor Brown.

"Extra help at the barn would be one solution. The teamster might be relieved of the work of getting his horse ready. There may be 35 or 40 teamsters."

"Of course there are some men in the department who want to work more than eight hours. It is optional with them. It seems to be human nature for some people to reach out and get all they can. I've been accused of that myself, you know."

Mr. Convery referred to the health department, and said there were instances of eight hour violations.

So far as carmen were concerned, Mr. Convery said this craft would have put in a bill for 41 hours a week had business conditions last year justified it.

"Why should the man with the pick and shovel have to go to work earlier than the bank man?" asked Mr. Convery.

The mayor asked Mr. Convery as to City Solicitor Hill's ruling and Mr. Convery said his ruling was that if a man wanted to work more than eight hours a day he could so inform his employer and that settled it. Mr. Convery said that when he heard that ruling he asked the city solicitor if there was such a thing as an eight hour law, and the city solicitor told him he didn't think there was.

Mr. Sproule said he believed that the proper application of the eight hour law would solve the problem of the unemployed. "The trouble today," he said, "that those who are in power do not enforce the law, but interpret it against the interests of the laboring man. We all believe in the voice of the people, and the people have spoken emphatically on this question. While city solicitors and others in power express themselves against labor laws, they know in their own hearts that the laws are right, that the people should rule."

"We have the law. No man can say it is not constitutional if he is fair. There has never been an injunction placed on this law. Let us try this law in the courts if necessary, and if the courts decree against us we will go back to the legislature and have the law amended. No man has the right to exceed the eight hours, for when he does that he is setting himself against the people. That man should have the city's employ and go into a corporation where extra hours are not only permitted but advocated."

"And what about the tax-payer?"

may be asked, I say the real tax-payer is the working man. He pays the rents and he represents the bulk of the merchants' business. The so-called tax-payer should be the last man to object to an eight-hour day.

"What was the principal objection to the eight-hour day? Was it stubbornness on the part of the head of the department?" asked the mayor.

"We have the impression that it was. There was a list started which men signed requesting permission to work more than eight hours a day. Where this list started I do not know, Supt. Morse said he found it on his desk."

"If there are any better conditions coming to the working man," said Mr. Convery, "we naturally look to the government to set the pace. There is nothing in the eight-hour law which says that an employee may work over eight hours by asking for the privilege."

Mayor Brown said he would look into the matter and he promised that if he found the head of a department violating the law he would deem such violation sufficient cause for removal. The mayor, however, said he did not know if the aldermen and councilmen would sustain him in making such removal. Before adjourning the committee called the mayor's attention to the practice of the school committee in not calling for bids for the contract of printing the department report.

BOSTON, Jan. 15.—Abbott Lawrence Lowell, author, lawyer, Eaton professor of the science of government and distinguished scholar, who will be the successor of Dr. Charles W. Eliot as president of Harvard university, when Dr. Eliot's resignation takes effect in May, was graduated from Harvard in 1877. He is a son of one of the first families of Massachusetts. The city of Lowell was named after his paternal grandfather, the city of Lawrence after his maternal grandfather. He was born in Boston on December 12, 1856, a son of Augustus Lowell and Katherine Bigelow Lawrence. Augustus Lowell was one of Boston's foremost financiers in his time. He founded Lowell institute, which has been managed so ably by the man who is to succeed to the helm of the great Cambridge university. Augustus Lowell's father left as a monument, besides the city which is named after him, the Boston and Lowell canal, which he constructed under great difficulties.

DIED BY POISON

Mrs. Kelleher's Daughter's Body Exhumed

SOMERVILLE, Jan. 15.—The exhuming yesterday of three additional bodies of members of the family of Mary Kelleher, who died while in Mrs. Kelleher's home under conditions believed to be suspicious, led to the belief that the authorities of Middlesex county regard the case as one of wholesale poisoning. It was learned yesterday from a person connected with the investigation in an official capacity, that the examination of the body of Katherine Kelleher, a daughter, whose body was exhumed a fortnight ago, disclosed a sufficient quantity of arsenic to cause death. Six persons, members of Mrs. Kelleher's immediate family, died at her home within three years. The bodies which were exhumed yesterday were those of William and Mary Kelleher, children of the woman held under suspicion. At present Mrs. Kelleher is awaiting trial on two charges of arson, to one of which she has admitted her responsibility.

The arrest of Mrs. Kelleher shortly after the breaking out of a fire in the home of her employer on Dec. 11, first attracted attention to an earlier blaze in the same house and to the series of mysterious deaths in the woman's household. She denied all knowledge of the latest fire, but admitted setting the first, giving no reason. She was examined as to her sanity, but experts could find no signs of aberration.

The three bodies unearthed yesterday were also turned over to the Harvard college chemists for examination. It is expected that an official report on the matter will be forthcoming soon.

BLACKINTON PLANT

SOLD AT NORTH ADAMS BY J. E. CONANT & CO.

On Tuesday afternoon of this week promptly at the advertised hour Messrs. J. E. Conant & Co. of Lowell, Mass., sold in one lot as a going concern the entire plant of the Blackinton Manufacturing company at North Adams (Blackinton), Mass.

The company were manufacturers of woolen and worsteds, suitings, trousseings and overcoatings. The business is a very old and established one of good repute and made many fine goods that found ready sale direct.

The capacity is from 250 to 250 pieces per week. There are fourteen (14) sets of cards with the auxiliary machinery except for worsted yarns; water, steam and electric powers. The attendance was noticeable for its size, activity and interest. The sale took place in the dressing room. There were five or six bidders who lasted almost to the end, while at the beginning the bidders numbered quite twelve, all from a distance with the exception of two. The purchaser was Arthur G. Meyer, 66 Leonard street, New York city. From the beginning to the end of this transaction there were many evidences to show the favor in which textile manufacturing is held today.

The interest taken in the sale is well illustrated by correspondence entered into with the Messrs. Conant from many sources before the day of sale. The property was sold through liquidation five years ago for $31,000 and brought last Tuesday about $45,000.

The mill was in full operation and the new purchaser will take possession without the stopping of operation for a single day.

The assessed valuation of the plant was $64,000. The fact that eleven (11) bidders out of twelve were disappointed, three or four of them bitterly so, tends to the opinion that the property brought a good price. Locally the price realized was much greater than anticipated.

LINONINE (Emulsion of Flax Seed)

HOW SICKNESS COMES

Most fatal sicknesses have their beginnings in a simple "cold" or in a slight cough.

Consumption first shows in a cough. Bronchitis is accompanied by a cough.

The first stage of La Grippe is a "cold."

Pneumonia is preceded by cough and violent "cold."

Croup—that terrible malady of childhood—comes solely as a condition of a "cold."

Rheumatism generally follows neglect after exposure and the consequent "cold" or cough.

Kidney Troubles, including Bright's disease and other fatal complications, are often due to a "cold" which settles in that region.

And there are countless other grave sicknesses which are recognized by the medical profession as having their direct or indirect cause in a neglected "cold" or cough.

THE OAKLAND SEWER.

It would be a serious matter if any considerable part of the work done upon the Oakland sewer should be destroyed by a cave-in. It should be put in proper shape to withstand the effect of the weather.

SENATOR FORAKER'S ATTACK.

Senator Foraker appeared in a rather unfavorable light when he attacked the president for violating the law in his efforts to find the culprits in the Brownsville affair. The same attack coming from a man who had not himself been tarred with the black brush would have been more effective.

THE MUNICIPAL EMPLOYMENT BUREAU.

Mayor Brown means all right in establishing an employment bureau at city hall. It is to be hoped that the "municipal register," as he terms it, will prove a success. Some method of helping the unemployed is very desirable, and if this scheme adopted by Mayor Brown proves practical, it should be helped along even to the extent of paying whatever expense may be attached to running it. It will enable anybody desirous of helping the unemployed to reach a large number of them without difficulty.

THE LOBBY STILL IN POWER.

The effort to abolish the lobby on Beacon Hill has proved an utter failure. The legislature evidently does not want it abolished. The members, no doubt, prefer to have the lobbyists come to them rather than go to the lobbyists. Were the latter cashiered from the state house they would establish headquarters in the vicinity and have the legislators go to see them. Many of the legislators look to the lobby for guidance on some of the most important matters of legislation in spite of the fact that the lobby exists to guard and promote certain special interests. The state house lobby will be as active this year as ever before.

CONGRESS VS. PRESIDENT.

The United States senate stands upon the constitutional right of congress to demand from the heads of departments any papers necessary to guide it in its action upon measures under discussion. This right was flatly denied by the president recently when the senate asked the attorney general why he did not proceed against the steel trust for absorbing a certain company. This is one of the constitutional questions raised by the president's usurpation of authority which the constitution does not seem to warrant. When President Roosevelt retires there will be a number of such questions to be decided by the supreme court or some other legal authority.

ONE OF THE SILLY MEASURES.

Some joker has presented a bill to the legislature providing that a man who is struck or run over by an automobile can seize the machine and hold it until he is indemnified. If by any possibility such a bill could become law, its operation would surely be laughable. The man who is run over by an auto is usually not in condition to chase and capture the machine. Besides, if the capture means forfeiture, the chauffeur will take care to increase his speed after he knocks a man down. Moreover, under such a silly arrangement it would not be unlikely that some men who wanted to capture a machine would lie down in front of one and claim they were run over. We do not think the lobby will permit the passage of any such foolish law. There is no question that in spite of all its faults, the lobby does secure the defeat of a great number of very foolish measures.

TO PREVENT MINE EXPLOSIONS.

At the Lick colliery in West Virginia the other day 100 lives were lost by an explosion. It was but two weeks before when fifty lives were lost by a similar explosion in the same colliery. This loss of life is fearful. If it occurred in a railroad wreck the whole country would be shocked with the details. But it occurs down deep in a mine where nobody is left to tell the terrible tale.

Congress should appropriate ample funds to be spent for inspection and other means of preventing these mine disasters in which so many lives are lost.

There is difficulty in enforcing the laws for the prevention of railroad accidents. How much more difficult is it to cause mine owners to go to the expense of providing for the safety of the men employed in their mines? The very fact that explosions occur so often proves that the preventive measures are inefficient. It is a matter that should receive the prompt attention of congress.

THE NEW PRESIDENT OF HARVARD.

From all accounts Professor Lowell is eminently fitted by training and experience to fill successfully the presidency of the great university of Harvard. As a scholar and a writer he stands higher than did Doctor Eliot when he took charge of the university. Eliot, however, proved to be a great administrator and a man of great executive ability. It remains to be seen whether Professor Lowell will show equal ability in that direction. There are many very fine scholars, very learned men and eminent writers who can never bring themselves to master the details of administration so essential to the success of an institution like Harvard.

Possibly Prof. Lowell has this gift in addition to his scholarly attainments. He comes from a great family of business men, being the grandson of Francis Cabot Lowell for whom this city is named. The people of Lowell and the other mill cities of the Merrimack valley in which the business genius of Francis Cabot Lowell is a matter of local history, will have great faith in the ability and the versatility of the new president of Harvard.

SEEN AND HEARD

Don't lose sight of the fact that laughter is one of the best means known to science for the correction of dyspepsia, stomach and nervous diseases. An eminent Russian physician is authority for this statement.

No man can truly feel for the poor without feeling in his pocket.

Men, like books, have at each end a blank leaf—childhood and old age.

Some people have a perfect genius for getting in the way and staying there.

It is when a woman tries to whistle that the great glory of her sex is seen without being heard very much.

It is a good sign to see a man wipe the perspiration from his brow, but a bad sign to see him wipe the moisture from his lips as he comes up out of the cellar.

There is nothing in art that can counterfeit the expression upon the face of a person who has a piece of nut lodged beneath the plate of his false teeth.

We overheard a man saying the other day that he had been married twenty years and had never given his wife a cross word. Perhaps he did not dare to.

I've been the only woman who never threatened to go and live with her mamma, and Adam was the only man who never tantalized his wife about "the way mother used to cook."

A slight which will readily bring tears to a person's eyes is that of a teasing man winking himself red in the face to call his dog, which is all the time wagging his tail vigorously at the man's feet.

Artemus Ward called on a friend the night before one of his panoramic lectures. There were some three or four large roaches scurrying about the room, and they attracted his attention. "I am very fond of roaches," he said. "Once, in my own home, I found a roach struggling in a bowl of water. I took a half walnut shell and put him in it; it made a good boat; I gave him a couple of toothpicks for oars. Next morning I saw that he had fastened a hair to one of the toothpicks, and had evidently been fishing."

"Then, overcome with exhaustion, he had fallen asleep. The sight moved me. I took him out, washed him, gave him a spoonful of egg, and let him go. That roach never forgot my kindness, and now my home is full of roaches."

EDITORIAL COMMENT

GETTING TIPS ON SUCCESS.
Brookton Enterprise: The people who pay out good money for tips on how to make money and how to win success would as a rule do vastly better by cutting out the visiting professional advice givers on every and any subject they want to know about. In every town there are successful professional and business men. How have they won success? What has been their history? What are their methods? Upon what do they depend for the victories they win? There are people who can tell; the men themselves might often tell if they were asked. Anyway, watching them and asking about them will not cost hard-earned money; there will be that much in it. We imagine there would be good houses drawn if a number of successful men in any city could be induced to appear at an evening and tell other people how they obtained their grip and mastery on the affairs of this life. It would be useful and helpful, and in a way fascinating; and of course it wouldn't be essential to tell everything in every case.

AMERICA'S GENEROSITY

Providence Journal: The general contributions from America in the hour of need seem to have made an immense impression upon all classes of Italians. It is said that the Italian Red Cross never before had enough money to meet its requirements at a time such as this. One consequence of the donation, it is said, is to increase the belief of the poorer Italians in America as the land of promise. Anything is possible, they think, in a country which sends out money so freely. That impression is not new in Europe, and it accounts for a considerable part of our immigration. In fact, it is predicted that, with so many persons made homeless by the earthquake and with so much distress that can only be temporarily assuaged at best, the number of Italian immigrants to American ports will specially show a marked increase.

PRESIDENT'S VITUPERATION

New York Evening Post: The president, in a burst of reckless vituperation, has grossly libeled the members of congress. When taken to task, two of his charges true; or, if he could not do that he might withdraw his offensive words and apologize. Mr. Roosevelt did neither. The natural result was the arraignment of his judgment and the impeachment of his house. No air of bravado about this, such as is now reported from the White House, can conceal the real nature of the occurrence. Mr. Roosevelt may intend not to care, but we may be sure he does care. He has said that there was to be "no Andrew Johnson business" in his administration. But now, not only has he got himself at loggerheads with congress, as Johnson did, but finds himself solemnly declared by the house to be guilty of a more serious moral fault than Johnson was ever charged with. No loud rough rider laughter can make this appear a joke.

R. G. Sullivan, manufacturer of the celebrated 7-20-4 cigar, has just consummated one of the largest purchases of Havana tobacco recorded in New England in years, securing thereby 2660 boxes of the choicest filler, which will be used in the manufacture of his popular cigar.

The tobacco purchased represents the finest grades of several of the plantations of Santa Clara, where the best Havana tobacco is cultivated. The consignment will furnish filler for between 18,000,000 and 20,000,000 cigars. Last year's output was over 15,000,000.

SUIT ENTERED

WOMAN ASKS $20,000 FROM BOSTON & MAINE

CONCORD, N. H., Jan. 15.—Suit has been brought against the Boston & Maine railroad for $20,000 damages, the plaintiff being Mary J. Angwin of this city, administratrix of the estate of her husband, George W. F. Angwin. Angwin was a brakeman on the Boston & Maine and was killed last fall while performing his duties upon the Claremont branch by an overhead bridge. The case is interesting as being the first in this country and probably in this state, brought under the federal employers' liability act, which was passed last April. The contention is that the Boston & Maine railroad, being a corporation engaged in an interstate business, is subject to this provision of the federal act in this case.

Umbrella Penetrated to Lexington Man's Brain

BOSTON, Jan. 15.—Henry C. Fay, Jr., 42 years old, son of a retired Presbyterian minister, who lived at Bedford and Hovey streets, Lexington, died about 8.45 last night at the relief hospital as a result of an umbrella being jabbed into his right eye, the point of the steel penetrating the brain, Frederick J. De Lude of West Medford was arrested at his home at midnight on the charge of having caused the death of Fay.

So far as the police have been able to learn, Fay had been in Boston during the afternoon and about 8.15 attempted to go into a saloon at the corner of Court and Sudbury streets. Fay was a cripple, walking as best he could on two artificial legs. It appears that

Officers of Highland Council Installed

Highland council, 970, Royal Arcanum, held a largely attended meeting last night, at which its newly elected officers were installed by District Deputy Dr. Joseph A. Mehan of Industry council and suite.

The new officers of the council are: Regent, Albert H. Bixby, V. R., Arthur H. Dana; orator, Fred Jones; secretary, W. D. Hill; collector, A. M. Hancock; past regent, M. H. Sawyer; treasurer, J. F. Butterfield; chaplain, P. R. Kinney; guide, W. J. Carey; warden, John Oliver; sentry, Fred Rand; and trustee, A. G. Walsh.

At the close of the installation, remarks were made by the district deputy and other brothers, and a past regent's jewel was presented to the rotating regent, who had so ably performed the duties of his office the past year.

Highland council has been very successful of late, both in securing new members and in assisting in various ways the committees of other councils in promoting those objects which are for the best interests of the order.

Much interest is being taken in the work of the Hospital Relief association, which has become a part of the order in Lowell and is furnishing hospital treatment to those of the members who become sick or disabled.

After remarks by the various speakers, the meeting was closed and the brothers repaired to the hall below, where a banquet was provided, consisting of turkey and all the fixings, and a general good time was enjoyed by all. It is the wish of the new officers to make this year, if possible, even more successful than last, and they ask the aid of all the members to assist them in their efforts.

SPENT $80,000

For Drink in a Few Years

In the district court at Cambridge yesterday, Stephen B. Howe, aged 33, of Lynn, was charged with drunkenness. He was arrested 10 days ago while sleeping in the carriage of a prominent citizen which was left standing at the curb while the owner entered a store.

A few weeks ago he was pulled out of the water at Long wharf. At one time he was worth more than $100,000, it is said.

In explaining Howe's arrest to the court, Capt. James E. Murray said: "Your honor, I understand that Howe has spent $100,000 within a few years through his drinking habits."

"I beg the court's pardon," interrupted Howe. "It was only $80,000."

Judge Almy continued the case until Jan. 18. Meanwhile Howe will be kept under observation at the house of correction, East Cambridge, and Dr. L. L. Bryant and Dr. Edwin C. Ulley will examine him as to his sanity.

INSTALLATION

ZELTIN CAUGHT

Missing Yeggman is in Quebec

WOBURN, Jan. 15.—Word was received here yesterday that a man, answering the description of Chris Zeltin, the missing member of the trio of yeggmen who shot up the town Feb. 6, last year, was in custody at Quebec, Can.

There have been many similar rumors here since the shooting, all of which have been investigated without satisfactory results, but in this case the evidence seemed so positive that Chief of Police Charles F. McDermott left here yesterday for the Canadian city.

He was accompanied by a man who knew Zeltin well and who can positively state whether the suspect is the man so long sought by the police. It is believed that the news of the man's arrest at Quebec came from a member of the Litt colony at Jamaica Plain, with whom Zeltin was known to be acquainted.

The chief laid his information before District Attorney Higgins and had his authority for making the visit.

PARISIAN SAGE
IT GROWS HAIR AND CURES DANDRUFF

Yes, Parisian Sage, the most invigorating hair restorer, grows hair; the women of America, who have luxuriant hair, know it does, and that is why thousands of attractive women throughout the land are regularly using it.

For years this almost marvelous grower of lustrous and beautiful hair was confined to the elite of Europe and New York city, but about two years ago it was given to a select list of druggists, and today can be obtained in any city or town in America, where society women of refinement dwell.

Parisian Sage is the most delightful hair tonic in the world. It makes the hair soft, lustrous and luxuriant in a few days. It is perfumed most delightfully and is not sticky or greasy. It stops falling hair, cures dandruff and itching scalp in two weeks or money back.

This is what Mrs. Elizabeth E. Anderson, Mechanicsburg, Pa., writes: "I had given up hope of ever being cured of dandruff, when I purchased a bottle of Parisian Sage. It has entirely removed the dandruff, and has started a growth of new hair, and all this after having been troubled for 15 years. I cheerfully recommend Parisian Sage."

Carter & Sherburne are the regular appointed agents in Lowell for Parisian Sage, and they will sell you a large bottle under a rigid guarantee for 50c. People living in towns where Parisian Sage is not obtainable can get it direct for 50 cents a bottle, all charges prepaid, from the American makers, Gironx Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y. The girl with the auburn hair is on every package.

Not a dollar's worth of merchandise purchased for sale occasions. Every item comes from our own staple line, thus insuring satisfactory prices at half and less.

MISS ARNOLD

The Lowell Society for the Enfranchisement of Women held its regular meeting in the Free church, Middlesex street, yesterday afternoon. Miss Mabelle L. Moses, chairman of the Massachusetts association, was present and presented the plan of the national association, to secure a million signatures to a petition to the senate and house of representatives of the United States. The members of the association who were present listened with interest to Miss Moses, and promised for the association that Lowell would do its best to further the movement. One hundred thousand signatures are wanted in Massachusetts. The petition reads as follows:

"We, the undersigned citizens of the United States, over 21 years of age, hereby petition your honorable body to submit to the legislatures of the several states for ratification, an amendment to the national constitution which shall enable women to vote."

It was voted to secure a speaker at a meeting to be held Mar. 25, Miss Arnold of England, who is a sister of Mrs. Humphrey Ward, a niece of Matthew Arnold, and a granddaughter of Thomas Arnold of Rugby. Miss Edmund, chairman of the program committee stated that Miss Arnold could be secured on that date, and brought the matter before the association in her report.

ROJESTVENSKY

Russian Vice Admiral is Dead

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 15.—The death is announced of Vice Admiral Rojestvensky, who was in command of the Russian fleet in May, 1905, when it was practically wiped out by the Japanese in the battle of the sea of Japan. Death, which occurred in St. Petersburg yesterday, was due to neuritis of the heart.

Sinovi Petrovich Rojestvensky was about 60 years of age, and for many years bore the reputation of being one of the most cool-headed and scientific officers in the Russian service.

During the war between Russia and Japan Admiral Rojestvensky was ordered early in August, 1904, to leave his squadron in readiness to proceed from the Baltic to Vladivostok. This proved to be one of the most remarkable voyages ever made and resulted in the annihilation of the Russian fleet.

The start was made from the Libau on October 12 of that year, and, passing around Denmark, the Russians encountered the British North Sea fishing fleet off Dogger bank. The warships fired on the fishermen, mistaking them for torpedo boats, which led to strained relations between Great Britain and Russia, that at one time threatened to result in hostilities.

An international commission of inquiry, however, which met at Paris, after a complete investigation, excused the admiral for his action, while condemning the firing.

Continuing his voyage Rojestvensky, after stopping at a number of places, arrived at Nossi-be, off the north coast of the island of Madagascar, at the beginning of January. There he was joined by Rear Admiral Vodka, and his division of the squadron.

On May 8, 1905, the division, commanded by Rear Admiral Nebogatoff, consisting of nine ships, joined forces with Rojestvensky, and the united fleet sailed to meet the Japanese.

The battle of the sea of Japan, was the result of this meeting. It was the greatest naval struggle since Trafalgar, entering the straits of Tsushima, between Korea and Japan, the Russian fleet was attacked by the Japanese under Admiral Togo, the opening shots in the fight being fired, about 2 o'clock on the morning of May 27.

Although inferior in the number of their battleships, the skillful tactics and superior range of their guns gave the Japanese a great advantage and enabled them to inflict a crushing defeat on the Russians.

The battle lasted until the afternoon

THE LATE ADMIRAL ROJESTVENSKY

blown up, and the admiral himself, seriously wounded, was rescued by a Russian torpedo boat destroyer, which was afterwards captured by the Japanese, who took Rojestvensky prisoner.

NATIONAL FORESTS

AND THE INCOMES ACCRUING THEREFROM

During the last fiscal year ending June 30, the United States Forest Service issued to settlers in the neighborhood of national forests in western states over 50,000 "free use" permits, under which the settlers received free about 264,000 cords of firewood, posts, poles and sawlogs, worth $169,320, or about 64 cents per cord in the forest—a low valuation.

Besides this, the different states received for school and road purposes 25 per cent. of the income from the national forests amounting last year to $117,084. The direct return to the states in lieu of taxes on the 147 million acres, the estimated area of unpatented land in the national forests, amounted then in the last year to $16,534 in cash and "free use" timber. In 1907, the total of "free use" material and money paid over amounted to about $253,400. The increase of the amount given to the states from 10 per cent. to 25 per cent. of course, is largely responsible for the large return in 1908, but even had this percentage not been changed a good increase would have been shown, despite the demoralization of the lumber business caused by the financial flurry. In fact, this increase may be looked for up to many times the present amount as the demand for timber increases and the forests are developed more and more.

CONTINUING OUR GREAT SALE OF MEN'S GLOVES

$1 and $2 Values Reduced to

55c, 69c and 89c a Pair

This sale has presented the best Glove buying opportunity the men of Lowell have ever had. Hundreds of shrewd men have already taken advantage of this remarkable savings chance—and scores more will when they read this and learn that the Great Glove Sale is still on.

The handwear in this Sale comprised a special underprice purchase from one of Gloversville's foremost manufacturers—some 250 dozen pairs in the original purchase, of regular $1 to $2 qualities, consisting of their entire sample line.

It is almost an axiom in the dry goods business that a manufacturer's Samples are invariably his Most Carefully Made Goods—they are the "ammunition" with which he arms his corps of road salesmen when the latter go "gunning" for orders amongst the trade. Consequently a Glove Maker's samples represent his very best effort—they are the flawless product of his most skilled workmen. He stands or falls by his samples.

But after the manufacturer's selling season is over he has no further use for his samples. They cannot be sold as new goods, so Mr. Maker sells them for mere song to some wide-awake retailer. In this case we were the wide-awake store to get the sample line of a prominent manufacturer of fine Gloves—and we bought them at a price which enables us to offer you

POSITIVELY THE BEST GLOVE BARGAIN EVER PUT FORTH BY A LOWELL STORE!

GERMAN STEAMER

BOMBARDED BY A LIBERIAN CUSTOMS GUNBOAT

KONAKRY, French Guinea, West Africa, Jan. 15.—News has just been received that the Liberian customs gunboat Lark has bombarded a German steamer of the Woermann line off the coast of Liberia. The reason is not given. A German guardship from Kamerun has sailed for Liberia.

The Lark is of 740 tons and was formerly a yacht of Lord Rothschild's. She was purchased by the Liberian government last year with the object of stopping ships coming into ports that are not open to the trade of the world. Her six guns are a gift of the British government. Her commander is Capt. Bunge of the British naval reserves.

Albert Nebes, the roller skating wizard, took Thomas Regan into camp last night when he defeated the latter in a two mile race by a lap and a quarter at the Majestic rink in Centralville. The time for the two miles was 6 minutes, 21 seconds. Lewis Toye acted as referee, the scorer was W. Toye and Nichols timed the race.

WOMAN FINED

CHARGED WITH A FIVE-CENT THEFT

PROVIDENCE, Jan. 15.—Sarah B. Potter, 55 years old, was charged in the district court yesterday with the larceny of a barrette, valued at 5 cents, from a store. She pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and costs. She went to the store and purchased a can of goods, for which she paid 15 cents, and it is alleged she then stole another can valued at 25 cents. From that store she went to another, where she was arrested, after she had, it is charged, taken the barrette. When taken to headquarters she pleaded poverty, but when searched by the marshal she was found to have in her possession $11.49 in cash, two bank books for $25.00 and a diamond ring worth $200.

ATTELL'S BOUT REV. MR. UFFORD

The Champion Retains His Title To Preach and Sing Here Sunday

GOLDFIELD, Jan. 15.—Abie Attell last night retained his title to the featherweight championship of the world by knocking out Freddie Weeks in the tenth round at the Goldfield C. C. Weeks fought gamely, but never had a chance. His blows lacked steam necessary to do any damage to the champion, who came out of the battle without a scratch. Eddie Grancy of San Francisco officiated as referee, and the boys put up a clean fight in every way.

Both were well within the weight limit of 122 pounds. Attell opened the proceedings with a right swing to the head and ended it in the tenth round with a series of vicious swings to Weeks' head and jaw which staggered Weeks to the ropes. Abie then picked up Freddie and carried him to his corner. It was a grueling mill but the champion outgeneraled Weeks at every point and never was in danger. He frequently poked his head into Weeks' face and smilingly took blow after blow without a wince or a stagger. In the third Attell opened Weeks' left lamp which bled hard throughout the battle and worried Weeks considerably.

40 MIDDLE ST.

The author of "Throw Out the Life-Line," Rev. E. S. Ufford, is in Lowell and will preach and sing in local churches on Sunday. Mr. Ufford has led a very interesting and very helpful life. He has made a tour of the world and has heard his famous hymn sung in divers tongues. He sang it in the old Hawaiian church in Honolulu and after it had been interpreted to the congregation by the pastor, Mr. Ufford was surprised to find that the hymn was contained in the hymn books of the church and the congregation sang it, for his benefit, in their tongue.

The power of gospel song was readily recognized by Moody and Sankey in their great revival campaigns, and they were ever on the watch for stirring hymns which could move and thrill their vast audiences. The hymn writer, Rev. E. S. Ufford, is one of a coterie of composers whose lyric "Throw Out the Life-Line," has fitted into an age of missionary and Christian Endeavor work of the past quarter of a century. Leaving for four of the world in the wake of his masterpieces, the life line preacher has thrilled thousands with his message and helped many a soul to enter the Christian life. At Carnegie hall in Allegheny, he addressed 1500 at a mass meeting, and in Toronto, where the mayor presided, he gave his address on "Man Overboard" to 5000, at the close of which 103 came forward and added their names to the total abstinence pledge.

Mr. Ufford has included Lowell in his season's trip, coming here from Lawrence, on Sunday he will preach at the Free Baptist church on Judge street. Rev. Mr. Toothaker, pastor, at 10:30 on "Hymns and Their Authors." At the Highland M. B. Sunday school, he will be present and sing. At 6 on Sunday evening, he will be at St. Paul's A. B. church to assist Pastor Dean in the Sunday night service.

Erma, and this will be his last season before the public. He composed "Throw Out the Life-Line," words and music, 25 years ago, at which time he was pastor of a church in a place a few miles west of Boston, then called West Newton and now known as Westwood.

It has long been the cherished wish of Mr. Ufford to establish a memorial to his hymn and he has purchased land in Rockland, Me., on which he will establish a church to commemorate it. He says there is splendid opportunity for a church in the south end where the shophouse is. He will build it to seat 200 people. He will build it next summer and it will also commemorate the 30th anniversary of his ministry. Mr. Ufford is verging on 60, but he does not look a day over 40. He will call his church at Rockland "Galilee Temple." He has written about 100 hymns, but "Throw Out the Life-Line" is his banner hymn.

The cult which accompanies this article represents the author of the world-famous hymn as seated at his organ, which he carries with him, singing through a megaphone on the wharf at San Francisco when the ship sailed from that point to Japan in 1903.

ALCOHOL IS A PRESERVATIVE

Alcohol is recognized the world over as the proper most efficient and wholesome preservative of medicinal compounds, and while some journalists try to alarm the world by the cry that potent medicines contain more alcohol than beer, they neglect to state that proprietary medicines are taken in doses from a teaspoonful to a table-spoonful, while beer is a beverage that is consumed in quantities from a glass to several quarts a day.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound contains only 12 per cent alcohol, simply enough to preserve the roots and herbs from which it is made, and may be relied upon by every woman in the land as a reliable, honest and sure remedy for the ills peculiar to her sex.

CLERK MISSING

He is Sought by the Police

BOSTON, Jan. 15.—Walter I. Gallagher, for eight years a trusted messenger in the employ of the American Express company, is sought by the police and detectives on a charge of having decamped yesterday afternoon with $5000 of the company's money.

Gallagher received the money in a canvas bag from the Court square office and was supposed to take it in his team to the main office at 43 Franklin street. Instead he put up his team, went home to get some clothing in a suit case, and disappeared.

Infatuation for a pretty girl he met on a summer vacation in Derry, N. H., is believed by Superintendent C. H. Berry to have been the motive for the young man's succumbing to temptation.

That this girl's name is "Fannie," and Gallagher wrote her in care of S. H. Bell, a Derry druggist, is the only clue the police now have to her identity.

His employers believe Gallagher went to New York, intending to keep in hiding until he could write to his sweetheart to join him.

The Boston police were notified of the robbery immediately after it was discovered, and agreed to keep it secret. The officials of the Express company made the most careful attempts to keep the news of the robbery from becoming public, even concealing it from their own employees as far as possible.

ABOR LEADER

Attacked at Meeting in
New York

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Daniel J. Tobin of Cambridge, Mass., international president of the Teamsters' union, is at a home in that city suffering from the effects of an assault upon him on Monday night, at the meeting of New York Carriage and Cab Drivers' union, 6, 705, at that union's meeting place 15th street, this city.

Sunday night at the meeting of union No. 708 he urged unanimity and the interests of harmony with the other union of similar nature, that is turning after a secession to the international body.

It is said he was very vigorous in his statements as to who and what he thought influenced the efforts to prevent the unions coming together.

President Tobin then started to leave the hall. "Look out," someone cried in warning, as he was about half-way down the hall. He instinctively raised his right arm. The weight of his getting his arm up quick enough to clutch save himself, although his arm broke the force of the blow aimed at him with a piece of gas pipe or iron bar wielded by one of the specialty partisan members.

But the interference of the arm probably saved his life, for the force of the blow was partly spent, and instead of his weapon striking him on the head it struck him glancingly in the face, breaking his spectacles and also badly fracturing his nose. The force also felled him to the floor. It is said that his assailant kicked him, injuring his ribs. Friends of Mr. Tobin interfered. President Tobin was carried to a hospital, where his wounds were dressed, and as soon as he was able to travel he started for home.

STAR THEATRE

The talking picture, "The Railroad Detective," is a realistic, melodramatic presentation at the Star theatre for tonight and Saturday. The theft of $10,000 in gold, the race between the locomotives, and the final stand of the robbers make the picture most sensational. A complete change of pictures went into effect this afternoon. Among the pictures presented was "Sheridan's Ride," which one should not fail to see. New songs, "Shine on, Harvest Moon," and "When I Marry You," were sung.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

In seeing "The Wolf" you will escape in imagination wholly from your surroundings, you will find yourself in the vast woodlands of northern Canada, where the breezes are fragrant of pine. It is autumn and the scene that is laid before your eyes is the clearing in front of the house of old McTavish. This is a lonely home. There only lives with him his daughter, golden haired Lilla.

This house becomes the rendezvous for a party of American engineers, led by MacDonald, the genius of the wilderness.

MR. SEVERIN DEDEYS

hardness, the man whose acute, broad mind makes possible the building of railroads over steep mountains and through valleys. In his profession a giant, in his moral nature a satyr, is MacDonald.

And ever as he is a guest at the home of McTavish, there are two men at his elbow who have for three years been hunting him—men who have a single idea as to what they will do when they meet him. They are resolved to kill him. For MacDonald had in years back, met Annette, a pretty little half-breed Ojibway girl—a good little girl, a communicant of the church, more French than Indian, a child who had all the simplicity of her Indian mother, while she had the moral teachings of the good Christian fathers of the remote parish.

MacDonald, a conscienceless, had courted her, won her confidence, betrayed her, and then left her to bear her shame.

Her half-brother, Jules Beaubien, a splendid young French-Canadian, only learned of Annette's existence when her father was on his deathbed. The young man is left heir to a big fortune and immediately starts in search of his half-sister with the idea of educating her and surrounding her life with luxuries. He traces her only to discover the frightful death which she suffered because of MacDonald's treachery.

He meets Batiste Le Grand, the girl's clean hearted lover, who was to have married her, but it was while Le Grand was away in the north working for the Hudson Bay company that MacDonald appeared, and with his suavity and worldliness misled the simple girl into believing that his love was honest and that he meant to marry her.

Jules Beaubien and Batiste Le Grand have been hunting this man for three years. Jules, by artful talk in which he causes MacDonald to believe that he, also is a libertine, has got from MacDonald's own lips the pitiful story of Annette.

Jules is in love with Lilla and it is plain that MacDonald is seeking to injure this girl woman as he did little Annette. He has filled her head with fascinating stories of the beauty of life in the great cities—the opera, theatres, handsome gowns, and glittering jewels.

With a notable company of players headed by Severin Dedeys and Mabel Estelle, "The Wolf" opens a two days' engagement here at the Opera House tonight.

"QUINCY ADAMS SAWYER"
The great scenic production of "Quincy Adams Sawyer" in play form will be seen here at the Opera House all next week with matinees daily, commencing Wednesday. This engagement will attract more than ordinary interest because the famous novel of the same name, from which the play is taken, became recognized at once when it came out over five years ago as "the best New England story ever written," and has continued to be known ever since as one of the best selling books in the country. Like father, like son, they say. And so like book, like dramatization, you can say in some cases. Critics are now saying of "Quincy Adams Sawyer" in play form that it is "The best New England play ever written."

HATHAWAY THEATRE

A squad of sixteen young men appearing in the military spectacle, "Our Boys in Blue," headlined at Hathaway's this week, drill with a degree of perfection almost unbelievable. Spectators of military organizations will marvel at the polish given to the many movements executed by them.

DeCarleton, Bondhill & Phelan open the good bill with a comedy musical sketch named "At the Jumping Off Place." The place shown is where all theatrical troupes go to pieces. The particular predicament after concerns the love affairs of a standard French actor and the prima donna of the same company. There is much fun in it. Ed Gray tells his own stories laughably and Golden & Hughes are all good in their blackface repertoire called "Sissieretta's Visit to the City." Helen J. Emmett is a novel ventriloquist, and the Gleasons and Fred Houlahan supply one of the prettiest dancing and piano acts seen here in a long time. Ed Gray & Church are over for analysis a lot of speedy talk. The Hathaway holds new films.

Performances will be given every afternoon and evening during the remainder of the week, with special seats at all matinees for women.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

Five of the most entertaining pictures of the season form a considerable part of the Academy program for the remainder of the week. The titles of the pictures are as follows: "The Mysterious Correspondent," "Monkey Land," "The Very Unlucky Thieves," "Dream of Wealth," and "The House at the Bridge." The subjects include the humorous and the dramatic, but total free from any coarse or offensive features. In addition to the pictures there are new illustrated songs and a most pleasing musical program by Prof. Whitney. Don't miss the Academy bill.

THEATRE LA SCALA

Yesterday's offering at the Theatre La Scala was just what comedy lovers have been looking for and the laughs were very plentiful. "The Worm Will Turn" is a comedy with several new features and it brings the laughs every time. The story it tells concerns a kind old man, who unfortunately has married a widow and she not only boasts the house but constantly refers to her late husband in a manner that makes her second quite sore. There are other pictures on the program fully as interesting, and the songs are both well selected and finely sung.

BAD WASH OUT

On the Southern Pacific in California

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 15.—One hundred and sixty-three feet of the Southern Pacific railroad over the American river has been washed away by the flood waters resulting from the storm prevailing in the large part of the state. The railroad has been cut off from all its overland routes, leaving this part of the state excepting only its southern lines.

KERN RIVER OVERFLOWS
BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Jan. 15.—Both the north and south levees which protect the city and surrounding country from the overflow of the Kern river gave way yesterday. More than one hundred men worked all night attempting to close the break, and if there is no additional rain fall it is believed that they will be successful.

ASK DIVORCE

THREE WOMEN TELL OF HUSBAND'S FAILINGS

BOSTON, Jan. 15.—Lucia S. Gay of Brookline, testifying yesterday in the Suffolk divorce court against her husband, Nelson M. Gay, a stock broker, said that he had contracted gross and confirmed habits of intoxication after their marriage, in 1901. She told the court that he led parasites about their flats early in the morning, played the piano when everyone else in the house was asleep (and once went for a stroll scantily clad and did not return for 48 hours. Decision was reserved.

Judge Fessenden dismissed the case brought by Hazel Winslip against her husband, Charles. From affluence and social position in one of the most aristocratic families in Canada to the player of a piano in a North end dance hall was part of a story revealed in a non-contested suit by Mrs. Alice F. Foster, now of Brookline, against her husband, Asa Foster, whom she testified, went into voluntary bankruptcy in 1908, with liabilities aggregating $30,000.

Mrs. Foster is the daughter of the advisory counsel of the Canadian Pacific Railroad company, a brother of a Canadian deputy and a relative of the lord chief justice of Canada. Her husband is the son of a very wealthy railroad contractor and of equal prominence in social circles.

They were married July 17, 1897, at Quebec, and came to Boston 21 years ago. Soon after they arrived in this city, he refused to work according to the testimony of Mrs. Foster.

She left him in August last, and does not know where he is.
